The Sixth Occupation.

Mat-plaiting (Weaving, Braiding).

Strips of colored paper are, by means of a steel or wooden needle of peculiar construction, woven into another (differently colored) leaf of paper, which is cut into strips throughout its entire surface, except that a margin is left at each end to keep the strips in their places. A very great variety of designs is thus produced, and the inventive powers of teacher and pupil are constantly stimulated.

The Ninth Occupation.

Pea- or Cork-Work.

Peas are soaked in water for 8 or 12 hours, and pieces of wire, of various lengths, pointed at the ends are stuck into them for the purpose of imitating real objects and the various geometrical figures. Skeletons are thus produced, which train the eye for perspective drawing most successfully. Wooden sticks similar to those used in Stick-laying, but thinner (only $^1/_{16}$" thick), are also used for this purpose.

In place of Peas many persons prefer Cork cubes which may be conveniently used again and again.

The Improved Corkworker

for the construction of figures by means of Sticks and Metal Tubes.

This occupation is an improvement upon Pea- and Corkwork. The child encounters difficulty in handling peas, because of their fragility, therefore metal tubes of various angles are in this method made to take the place of peas.

By means of these tubes all sorts of forms, both flat and solid, may be constructed and as the tubes can be bent at the angles, the child is enabled to imitate such complicated structures as chairs, ladders, bedsteads, etc.; even difficult crystal-shaped and mathematical combinations may thus be formed by the child.

Kindergarten Paper Frames.

Steiger's Kindergarten Paper Frames

(Passe-partout) for the suitable and convenient exhibition, on the wall or elsewhere, of children's work in

Perforating,
Embroidering,
Drawing,
Paper-Interlacing,
Weaving (Mat-Plaiting),
Paper-Folding,
Paper-Cutting, etc.

These Paper Frames are attractive and serviceable, having an open space—either right-angled or oval—for the display of the specimens of Kindergarter-Work, so arranged that this can be readily inserted; they are made by the doubling of heavy colored card-board, have neatly printed borders, silk bands and are ready for instant and repeated use.

They serve as an ornament to the room, while, more than this, they have the desirable effect of encouraging the children, who thus have before their eyes some work of their hands, which is a delight to their parents and appreciative friends.

The low price of these Frames permits their very extensive use as a means of preserving the neat and ingenious designs and productions of the children, which otherwise would be lost or considered an encumbrance.

Each package contains 1 dozen Paper Frames either of one size, in 6 or more assorted colors, or of a selection from various kinds, permitting suitable and tasteful combinations.

Busy Work Tiles.

An occupation for the youngest children—in the home, the Kindergarten, and the Primary school.

The Tile is a finely finished board, 6" square, with holes drilled for pegs of various colors.

The pegging of lines, angles, and geometrical forms, the arranging of the colors in the various combinations, and the invention of new forms and combinations give much pleasure, while affording the means of instruction to the little ones in the Kindergarten and at home.

As put up for Kindergarten and school use, the boards are without pegs, and the pegs are in boxes of one thousand each, assorted in six colors. For private use one board with a good assortment of pegs is put up in a paper box, making it complete.

There are three kinds of Tiles with different patterns.
1732. 1 Busy Work Tile, with holes arranged $\frac{1}{2}$" apart in the form of a square, without pegs. $0.25. (5 c.)
1732a. 1 ditto, in a box, with pegs. $0.35. (8 c.)
1733. 1 ditto, with holes arranged $\frac{1}{2}$" apart in the form of a triangle, without pegs. $0.25. (5 c.)

The Prang Course of Instruction in Color.

Among thoughtful teachers the study of the child has come to be an accepted necessity in educational progress. The new methods of teaching the fundamental studies are strikingly in advance of the old methods. The best schools have abandoned the method of beginning the instruction of children by forcing upon them the technical formulæ of ready-made knowledge, regardless of the child's limited capacity for grasping the ideas of mature minds. The best teaching of Language, Number, Geography, Elementary Science, and Drawing, now takes sympathetic account of the child's powers of observing and thinking, and also of the manner in which these powers can best be developed.

As with the instruction in these subjects, so it should be with Color.

If instruction in Color is to come into the schools as a part of our system of public education, it must be based on sound educational principles, and must be developed according to educational methods, — that is, methods consistent with the actual mental condition of the children under instruction, and with the known laws of mental growth. Extended and careful observations of young children, made by competent persons under the most varied conditions, show it to be a fact that children do not see color as adults see color. The color sense in most young children is imperfect in action and limited in range. The Prang Course of Instruction in Color begins by recognizing this fact, and appeals, in the first place, to the child's rudimentary color sense. From this beginning, it unfolds through graded exercises involving at every step the activity of the pupil's individual powers of color observation and color expression. The object of these exercises is:

To develop in the pupil, through direct and repeated observations of color, the power to recognize beauty and harmony in color effects.

To train the pupil, through the wisely guided personal use of color material, to skill in expressing thought and feeling by the use of such material.

To so connect the pupil's study of Color with that of Form, Drawing, and other branches of school instruction, that his developing powers of color observation and color expression may be of value in his study of Nature and of Art.

The Color Instruction heretofore provided in the schools has been of a purely abstract and theoretic sort, taking account only of the science of Color in itself considered. The Prang Course of Instruction in Color is the first ever devised and formulated with a distinct recognition of the relation of Color to the mental condition and mental growth of children. It is the only Course founded at once on a thorough knowledge of the scientific side of the subject of Color, on a full appreciation of the Art side of the problem, and on a long and widely extended experimental study of the color sense in children, and its progressive development under training.

Materials for carrying out the work of this Course of Instruction are being prepared, and will soon be completely ready for the schools. The materials for Primary work include Color Charts of various kinds, Colored Tablets, and Colored Papers. The use of Water-Colors in the Primary School is rarely practicable, but the Papers prepare for work with Water-Colors. The materials for Intermediate, Grammar, and higher grades include Color Charts, Colored Papers, and Water-Colors.

The standards of Color presented to pupils have been fixed after long study of the scientific theory of Color, wide experience in the actual use of Color in Art and in the Industries, and repeated conference with color experts, both American and European. In the preparation of Prang's Standard Colored Papers, four important considerations have been taken into account:

1) The recognition of the solar spectrum as Nature's unit of color, although it is impossible to reproduce its immaterial hues with absolute exactness in any known pigmentary substances.
2) The recognition of those colors as typical, which, on account of their universality in Nature and in art, are recognized by the trained eye as types of certain hues. The luminous green of the spectrum, for example, is not actually identical with the green which is fairly representative or typical of the green of Nature — the universal green. Both phases of green should be taken into account in fixing upon a standard of green.
3) The recognition of the trained æsthetic sense as a rightly authoritative element in the adoption of standards of color.
4) The necessity of considering the nature of the pigmentary substances employed; — they must be absolutely non-poisonous.

It is believed that the Prang Course of Instruction in Color will be found a sound educational formulation of the subject, and that Prang's Standard Colored Papers, and the other color material provided for working out this Course in the schools, will prove practical and satisfactory in school-room use.

☞ E. Steiger & Co. have adopted

The Anchor Blocks

are Building Blocks of artificial stone in 3 natural colors (brick-red, sandstone-yellow, slate-blue) with colored Building Designs.

The Anchor Blocks may be considered a new stage in the development of Frœbel's ideas; they are highly appreciated as an occupation by which the child's mind is early trained and led into the right direction. It is further acknowledged as a fact that the occupation of building is a good preventive against that craving for reading which so many children possess. The conviction has become more and more general that it is of no benefit to the children to give them too much to read, as owing to the haste with which most books are read, the children get but a shallow understanding of what they read and besides, it makes them nervous. But the Anchor Blocks on the contrary afford a beneficial rest to the child's mind, as the little builder knows too well that he does not reach his aim any sooner by too much haste; he must calmly consider everything, if he will solve his problem and this circumstance alone gives the Anchor Blocks the character of a most important means of education.

The Anchor Blocks principally distinguish themselves from the building boxes in that they contain real stones instead of wooden blocks. Building with stones in natural colors is for the child not only a pleasant way to pass the time, but it also greatly stimulates his intellectual powers. The designs which are executed with superior taste and great exactness and which are represented in great variety from the simplest to the most complicated, are producing in the child's mind an understanding for measures, proportions and perspective. The ground plans and sections given for the more difficult structures, besides facilitating building, compel the little builder to reflect and give him an idea of the construction of a real building. The supplement system enables even less well-to-do parents to put to the growing intellect of the child more and more difficult problems. When the child has repeatedly constructed the models from the book of designs he will soon be able to erect buildings from his own fancy.

For these reasons we do not hesitate to sincerely recommend these Anchor Blocks from a pedagogical point of view to all parents and instructors and we wish that this new occupation may soon be more largely introduced into the families.

Miscellaneous.

The Architect in the Nursery.

After Frœbel's system. ("The cube is the unit.")

Suitable for building in the following style (which is produced from the contents of a larger box).

The Little Frame-Builder.

A new Building-Box designed for erecting Skeletons of Houses, Towers, Churches, Bridges, etc., from Blocks and Staffs. It contains 25 wooden Cubes, each with holes bored in various directions, 100 round wooden Staffs of varying length, and 17 Designs. Price $1.00 (Postage $0.40)

Of all occupations for children, Building is one of the most useful. It trains eyes and hands, develops the sense of the beautiful and the intellectual faculties, and strengthens the child's judgment.

With a view to these advantages for the child, the above Building-plays are specially recommended. The unit of all building is the cube, from which all other forms are developed, according to the system of Frœbel.

The drawings which accompany these plays, are numerous and so carefully presented, that they can be followed without any difficulty even by young children. On the other hand they serve as the basis of numberless variations, with which the attentive and inventive child will busy himself.

It shows a delicately graduated band of color, 3×36", on a gray mount 10×40. The space-values of the colors are apportioned according to the measurements of Prof. Ogden N. Rood, of Columbia College. The A, B, C, D, E, F, G, and H lines of Fraunhofer are shown in their correct position. ☞ This is a book for every family, and for every teacher. — Miss E. P. Peabody writes in regard to it: "We like the Manual very much, and my sister (Mrs. Mann) says, 'since it is impossible for Mrs. Kraus to teach all the children in the United States herself, the next best thing for her to do is certainly to give these precise and full directions to others.' We are indeed delighted with your minuteness, thoroughness, and clearness of direction. Your book is certainly far in advance of any Guide we have yet seen."

We invite particular attention to our unequalled stock of

Standard German Books,

Choice and Superior Editions, in Extra Binding, which are especially suitable for Public and Private Libraries.

For smaller and Circulating Libraries, for use in classes of Colleges, and for Bookbuyers generally we recommend the

Cheapest Editions of

Standard German Books

@ 5 cts., 10 cts., 15 cts., etc. — in paper,
and @ 15 cts., 20 cts., 25 cts., etc. — in cloth.

These are

Meyer's Volksbücher — Reclam's Universal-Bibliothek — Hendel's Bibliothek der Weltlitteratur — Collection Spemann — Collection Hartleben, etc.

We keep a very large stock of these volumes, and can thus fill most orders immediately. Lists may be had on application.

On the next pages we print the lists of all the volumes of which, being well bound and cheap, are especially suitable for small Collections, for Circulating and Family Libraries. A small beginning may be made with a number of such volumes, to which others, in uniform binding, can be added as circumstances permit.

Cotta'sche Bibliothek der Weltlitteratur — Engelhorn's Roman-Bibliothek — Weber's Illustrierte Katechismen — Novellen-Bibliothek der Illustrirten Zeitung — Sammlung Goeschen,

☞ Any order for German and other Foreign, or for American Books and Periodicals may be directed to us with the expectation that we shall either fill the same at once, or else forward it to another house which is probably able to supply what is wanted.

If, however, parties who address orders to us desire that we fill the same, although we may not have on hand what is ordered, they should state expressly: "Procure, if not on hand" in which case we shall do so, as promptly as possible.

☞ Of German Books in all departments, of Books for the study of Foreign Languages, and of many other specialities we keep the largest stock in America; we try to procure in this city what we may not have on our shelves, and import any publications from all countries within the shortest possible time.

FOSTER'S BOOKS ON GAMES.

Foster's Complete Hoyle.

By R. F. FOSTER.

Author of "Foster's Complete Hoyle," "Foster's Whist Manual," "Foster's Whist Tactics," "Foster's Duplicate Whist," "Foster's American Leads," "Foster on Hearts," "Whist at a Glance," "Pocket Guide to Modern Whist," and the inventor of the self-playing whist cards and the Foster Whist Markers.

Mr. Foster is probably the most thorough and scientific student of games of the present time. He is accurate and painstaking to the last degree and his books have a value for reference not equalled by any other similar works.

His "Complete Hoyle," is the most important book on cards ever issued. Mr. Foster was employed on it continuously for over a year. It is a complete encyclopedia of all the indoor games played at the present day. It contains suggestions for good play, a full code of laws for all games, numerous illustrative hands and a brief statement of the doctrine of chances as applied to games. Illustrated with numerous diagrams and engravings.

Rules are given in this valuable book for over 250 games. Mr. Foster has consulted in his researches nearly every book printed on the subject in any language and has been in correspondence with the leading clubs where games are played. Very few games are played with any well defined rules and this book is meant to be a standard authority by which all questions can be settled.

12mo., cloth., with title in gold, and with an appropriate design in colored inks of a hand of cards, dominoes, billiard balls, dice, etc., . . . $2.50

Foster's Whist Tactics.

R. F. FOSTER, author of FOSTER'S WHIST MANUAL.

In this work the author has followed the same principles which made his manual so successful, first giving the examples with the cards, and then showing the principles underlying their management. The general management of the hand is gone into, and rules are given for the best course when the plain suits and the trumps are in certain proportions.

The examples which the author uses throughout the work consist of 112 hands at Duplicate Whist, played by correspondence between 16 of the finest players in America. For every card played in this match, each of the players had a week to think over the situation and the result has been 112 examples of the very best and most carefully studied whist ever played.

The arrangement and presentation of the subject is quite original and entirely different from that pursued in any other work on whist, and the publishers are confident that it will be recognized as the most comprehensive work ever written on the game.

The book is very handsomely printed.

12mo., Holliston cloth, stamped with title in gold and a hand of cards in silver and red ink, gilt edges. $1.25

Hearts.

The only work published on this subject by a competent authority. The many admirers of this interesting game will welcome with delight a standard by which all disputes can be settled.

HEALTH AND CONDITION, In the Active and Sedentary.

By NATHANIEL EDWARD YORKE-DAVIES, Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians of London, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, Licentiate in Midwifery and Diseases of Women and Children, etc. Author of "Foods for the Fat," "The Dietetics of Obesity," "Aids to Long Life," "Medical Maxims," etc.

The author explains the purpose of his work as follows:—"Long life and healthy life are, in a great measure, in the hands of us all, and the deviations from health that we bring upon ourselves are, if remediable, more correctly so by dietetic means than by medicines. The former may be permanent cures, the latter are but palliations. * * * This work aims to point out the truest way of attaining robust health and long life."

HIEROGLYPHIC BIBLES, THEIR ORIGIN AND HISTORY.

A hitherto unwritten chapter of Bibliography by W. A. CLOUSTON. With over 30 fac-similes and 56 old wood-cut illustrations, and a new Hieroglyphic Bible told in stories by FREDERICK A. LAING, with hundreds of tiny colored pictures.

This work is full of interesting information regarding these once popular juvenile books that has escaped the notice even of bibliographers. The contents of this unique book include:

1. Many curious and diverting examples of the Rebus, a fantastic mode of employing figures of certain objects to express surnames.

2. A description of some of the more important "Block Books" of the 15th century.

3. An account of the principal books of "Emblemata," from Alciati to Francis Quarles.

4. A very full description of MS. Latin Biblia in Rebus of the 15th century.

5. Titles and Prefaces of many versions of English, French, Dutch, and German Hieroglyphic Bibles—those of the Continental works have not before appeared in English.

6. Comparative Analysis of the different versions, with occasional extracts.

7. Comparative Tables of the two groups of English versions, showing their source or sources.

8. Fully 30 Fac-similes, including 4 pages of the Latin MS.; 12 pages of the German, Dutch and French versions; and proof of the cover of Hodgson's "Curious Hieroglyphick Bible," preserved in the British Museum, on which John Bewick has written some particulars regarding its sale, and giving 1776, apparently, as the date of the first edition, the accuracy of which is questionable.

9. In addition to Fac-similes, the text contains many of the wood-cuts in the edition published by Dean & Munday, London, early in the present century, which are printed from the original blocks, which were discovered a few years ago.

The impression of this edition de Luxe is necessarily limited, and only one hundred copies have been printed for the American market.

Crown quarto, cloth, bevelled boards, gilt edges, printed on fine paper with double red-line border, $9.00

(A descriptive circular of this book, with specimen pages, will be sent on application.)

All the facts pertaining to natural history or geography in the book are accurate, and it is an exceedingly attractive work for young people. While a story of adventure, rather than a novel, there is a pretty love story running through the narrative, adding to its interest.

SWEETHEART TRAVELLERS.

A child's book for children, for women and for men.

By S. R. CROCKETT, author of "The Sticket Minister," "The Raiders," "The Lilac Sunbonnet," etc.

This book should be the most popular book for young people of the coming season. It was brought out in Great Britain last December, but it was not put on the market here, although copyrighted, as it was so late in the year.

Its sale in Great Britain during the holidays was second only to "Trilby." Unlike most books of this character, it appeals to adults as well as to children.

With numerous and beautiful illustrations by Gordon Browne and W. H. Groome.

The following are a few extracts from the many enthusiastic notices of the book that appeared in England.

"If Mr. Crockett had never written another line, this book alone would be sufficient to stamp him as a man of supreme talent. It is impossible to do justice in a brief notice to its indescribable charm. There is in it wit, pleasantry, pathos, and a most exquisite tenderness."—Weekly Sun, London, Eng.

"Had any one ever been disinclined to disbelieve in Mr. Crockett's genius he must have recanted and repented in sackcloth after enjoying 'Sweetheart Travellers.' It is the rarest of all rarities and veritably 'A Child's Book for Children," as well as for women and men. It is seldom, indeed, that the reviewer has the opportunity of bestowing unstinted praise with the feeling that the laudation is, nevertheless, inadequate. 'Sweetheart Travellers' is instinct with drollery; it continually strikes the softest notes of tender pathos, like some sweet old-fashioned nursery melody, and it must make the most hardened bachelor feel something of the pleasures he has missed in living mateless and childless.—London Times.

"Sweetheart Travellers is a book to be bought and lingered over. There is a charm of one description or another all the way through its pages, whether it be dealing with a walk in mid-winter, a cycle tour in spring or autumn, or some home and foreign references to the vagaries and sayings of Mr. Crockett's little companion. Much credit is due to the author's skill in writing, to his fund of humour and genial good nature; and these combined with Sweetheart make a book that it is difficult to over praise. For the sake of the dainty little maiden and her story we could even forgive Mr. Crockett six volumes of the broadest Scotch dialogue ever penned."—London Literary World.

4to., cloth, with a design on the cover in colored ink, illustrating a scene from the book. . . $1.50

This contains selections from the writings of 52 ancient philosophers, poets, etc., all extant before Christ. Among the authors represented are SOLOMON, HOMER, HESIOD, SOLON, SOPHOCLES, HERODOTUS, EURIPIDES, THUCYDIDES, and SOCRATES.

Many of these selections are especially interesting as indicating the origin of familiar sayings at the present day.

The translations have been passed upon by professors of various colleges and have received the greatest praise from Edward Everett Hale and others.

A brief biography of each writer is given with dates. The most important feature of the book, however, is the collection of fifty-two illustrations, which are portraits of the different authors. OF

STONE & KIMBALL.

ABBOTT, ANGUS EVAN.

THE GODS GIVE MY DONKEY WINGS. 18mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

The style is quaint, and the author, Angus Evan Abbott, shows decided ingenuity in the droll complications. — Providence Journal.

ALLEN, GRANT.

THE LOWER SLOPES. Reminiscences of Excursions round the Base of Helicon, undertaken for the most Part in early Manhood. With a titlepage by J. Illingworth Kay. Printed by T. & A. Constable, Edinburgh. Crown 8vo. $1.50 net.
Only eight copies remain.

The longest poem in the collection is entitled, "On Magdalen Tower," and is chiefly philosophical in character. Other pieces are political and revolutionary, and not a few of the shorter lyrics deal with social questions from an "advanced" standpoint which may give rise to criticism on the part of Mr. Grant Allen's well-known bugbear, Mrs. Grundy. — London Daily Chronicle.

ARCHER, WILLIAM.

See Ibsen.

BELL, LILIAN.

A LITTLE SISTER TO THE WILDERNESS. With a cover designed by Bruce Rogers. 16mo. $1.25.
Seventh thousand.

Miss Bell will be remembered as the author of the "Love Affairs of an Old Maid," and though the present volume is in an entirely different vein, — being a novel of Tennessee life, — it is quite as distinguished in its way, and doubly interesting when compared with the former book.

The old story, but never told with such rich pathos, such rare humor, such sweet sympathy. — Rochester Herald.

"A Little Sister to the Wilderness" is an American story of excellent quality, interesting from first page to last. — Independent.

BULLOCK, SHAN F.

RING O' RUSHES. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

These Irish tales are of great interest, especially now, when the literature of the Celts and Gaels is creating such a marked sensation.

BURGESS, GILBERT.

CANTON, WILLIAM.

W. V.: HER BOOK. Illustrated. 16mo. Cloth. $1.25.

Since the publication of Mr. Canton's "Invisible Playmate," his audience can be looked upon as no uncertain quantity, and in "W V.: Her Book," will be found more of the same charming and subtle appreciation of child life.

CHANNING, GRACE ELLERY.

THE SISTER OF A SAINT AND OTHER STORIES. 16mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

CHATFIELD-TAYLOR, H. C.

TWO WOMEN AND A FOOL. With eight pictures by C. D. Gibson. $1.50. Eighth thousand.

Mr. H. C. Chatfield-Taylor, whom Paul Bourget has named as the most promising novelist of American social life, has given us a clever story in "Two Women and a Fool." The tale is retrospective; one hears it from the lips of Guy, an artist; and it concerns his love for two women, a very naughty and an extremely nice one, Moira and Dorothy respectively. Moira, who becomes a soubrette, leads Guy, who becomes a successful artist, a tremendous pace, wearying him at length, but still holding the power to revive him with her look that allures. The romance leaps from Chicago to London and Paris and back to the Windy City again. It is steadily entertaining, and its dialogue, which is always witty, is often brilliant. C. D. Gibson's pictures are really illustrative. — Philadelphia Press.

CONGREVE, WILLIAM.

THE COMEDIES OF WILLIAM CONGREVE. With an introduction by G. S. Street, and a portrait. Two vols. $2.50 net. In the English Classics Series.

CORNFORD, L. COPE.

CAPTAIN JACOBUS. A strong romantic novel by a new man. 16mo. $1.25.

CRAM, RALPH ADAMS.

BLACK SPIRITS AND WHITE. A book of ghost stories. 16mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

Ghost stories are perhaps the most difficult things to do nowadays, and the very daring of the attempt seems a promise of success.

CRANE, WALTER.

PICTURE BOOKS. A new series, with pictures and decorations by Walter Crane. Printed in colors. Three tales bound together, with decorative end-papers. 4to. $1.00 net. The volume contains:

I. This Little Pig.
II. The King Luckieboy.
III. The Fairy Ship.

The three books separately in pamphlet form, 25 cents each.

CURTIS, WILLIAM E.

THE YANKEES OF THE EAST. A book of letters on Japan. Illustrated. 2 vols. $4.00.

DAVIDSON, JOHN.

PLAYS. An Unhistorical Pastoral; a Romantic Farce; Bruce, a Chronicle Play; Smith, a Tragic Farce; Scaramouch in Naxos, a Pantomime. With a frontispiece and cover design by Aubrey Beardsley. Printed at the Ballantyne Press, London. Sm. 4to. $2.00 net.

MISS ARMSTRONG'S AND OTHER CIRCUMSTANCES. Printed at the University Press, Cambridge. 16mo. Cloth. $1.25.

Those who are interested in Mr. Davidson as a poet will be glad to know that he has done work which shows that he is a story writer as well.

Beyond all doubt, there is the true stuff in Mr. John Davidson. He is a strong man of the younger generation of poets, — of the generation, that is to say, which is junior not only to Mr. Swinburne, but to Mr. Henley. An abundant vigour, a lusty vitality, is the mark of all his work. He does not versify for the sake of versifying, but because his intensity of feeling seeks an outlet in the most vehement and concentrated form of expression. — London Chronicle.

DeKOVEN, Mrs. REGINALD.

A Sawdust Doll. With cover and titlepage designed by Frank Hazenplug. 16mo. $1.25. In the Peacock Library.

Second edition.

We have been favored recently with "society novels" by Mr. Crawford and Mr. C. D. Warner, who, of course, know "society" tolerably well, and also know how to write, and are gifted with good strong imaginations, and Mr. Howells we have always with us. But these men have literary minds, if we may so express it, and they write of "society" as they write about the common herd, or brigandage in Greece or sunset in Venice, as a subject they have noted and studied, that has perhaps inspired them to effort, but not as one upon which their very being depends.

Wherefore, there is a much warmer welcome, from folks gifted with the proper kind of understanding.

This book of Mrs. Reginald DeKoven is a treasure. She speaks "open sesame" for us. — New York Times.

FITCH, CLYDE.

Some Correspondence and Six Conversations. 18mo. $1.00.

A collection of the dialogues and social satires which have appeared in "Life" and "The Chap-Book," during the past year.

FREDERIC, HAROLD.

The Damnation of Theron Ware. 512 pp. 8vo. $1.50.

This story was published in England under the title Illumination, and is the first book in three years which has been read and recommended by the Hon. William E. Gladstone. It promises to be widely read and still more widely discussed, not only as a literary masterpiece, but as a story of Methodism versus Catholicism which has never been surpassed.

Mr. Frederic has written a daring story, and one which is doubly impressive because of the straightforward simplicity of his manner of presenting his case. His attack is certainly a bold one, and it will be strange if he does not bring down the unanimous maledictions of the cloth on his devoted head. — Chicago Evening Post.

The atrociously named "Damnation of Theron Ware" is a theological romance, in the course of which Mr. Harold Frederic is so anxious to mystify his reader that he wholly forgets the more vital point of making his story hang together. This is in fact a tissue of inconsistencies, and as for the characters, there is not a convincing one in the book. Mr. Frederic should be warned that the confiding reader who entrusts himself to his novelist for a little turn in the delightful country of make believe, docile enough so long as the novelistic proprieties and probabilities are observed, is capable of being goaded, by incautious treatment, into the rebellious and skeptical reader who shies at every obstacle along the pathway, and ends by taking the bit between his teeth and bolting into the more desirable pasture-land of some one's else novel. — Milwaukee Sentinel.

The merit of the book is worthy of special praise because of the exceptional strength, variety, and originality of the characters. — Cleveland World.

Mr. Frederic has not only far excelled all his own previous works of fiction in this remarkable book, but he has gone a step further. No other very recent American novel can be fairly compared with this in pitiless analysis of character, in originality of conception, in vital force, and in mystery — not the artificial mystery of romance, but the mystery of life, which all who really live must experience — and it possesses, moreover, unique claims to consideration. "The Damnation of Theron Ware," however it may be taken by the multitude of novel readers — and even the shrewdest minds in the book trade cannot safely predict the merely pecuniary success of a novel — will easily rank as literature with the best works of Mr. James, Mr. Howells, and Mr. Crawford. — N. Y. Times.

It is quite impossible to quote any one sentence or paragraph from the hundreds of columns of review and editorial notice this book has received which gives the force of the long article.

GALE, NORMAN.

COUNTRY MUSE. First Series, revised and enlarged. Crown 8vo. $1.25 net.

Second edition.

A JUNE ROMANCE. With a titlepage and tailpiece designed by Basil Johnson. Printed on antique paper. Price, $1.00. Third edition.

Though little known in America, this is one of the most delightful love stories which has appeared in a long time.

GARLAND, HAMLIN.

ROSE OF DUTCHER'S COOLLY. A New Novel. 8vo. $1.50.

I cherish with a grateful sense of the high pleasure they have given me, Mr. Garland's spendid achievements in objective fiction. — W. D. HOWELLS, in Harper's Weekly.

Its realism is hearty,—vivid, flesh and blood realism,—which makes it readable even to those who disapprove most conscientiously of many things in it — The Critic.

The man or woman who does not feel happier and better for having read Hamlin Garland's novel, "Rose of Dutcher's Coolly," is not to be envied. . . . To minds disgusted and enervated by the febrile unrealities of English fiction, the lusts of Lord This and the shames of Lady That, this good, sweet story of "Rose of Dutcher's Coolly" will be an invigorating tonic. — New York World.

It will hardly be questioned that the book of the season is "Rose of Dutcher's Coolly," by Hamlin Garland. — Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

PRAIRIE FOLKS. A new book of stories on the order of "Main-Travelled Roads." 8vo. Uniform with "Rose of Dutcher's Coolly." $1.25.

MAIN-TRAVELLED ROADS. Six stories of the Mississippi Valley. A revised edition, with an introduction by W. D. Howells, and frontispiece, headpieces, and cover design by H. T. Carpenter. Printed at the University Press on specially made paper. 16mo. Buckram, gilt top and uncut edges. $1.25. Twelfth edition.

Also 110 copies, 100 for sale, on large paper. 8vo. $5.00 net. Very few remain.

PRAIRIE SONGS. Verses. With cover, head and initial letter pieces designed by H. T. Carpenter. Printed at the University Press on specially made paper. 16mo. Buckram, gilt top, edges uncut. $1.25 net.

Also 110 numbered copies, 100 for sale, on large paper, each signed by the author. 8vo. $5.00 net. Very few remain.

There is no use waiting for London praise of the rich and vigorous poetry of Hamlin Garland to acknowledge that it has genuine quality and force. The economics and polemics of this young man must be taken quite apart from his work in literature. When he theorizes least he is of course most an artist. And although his disdain of forms occasionally appears with startling distinctness, in the main he sinks notion in emotion in "Prairie Songs," and with refreshing and often delicious naturalness sings of the life and nature that he knows best of all. — Boston Transcript.

CRUMBLING IDOLS. Twelve essays on Art, dealing chiefly with Literature, Painting, and the Drama. Printed at the University Press. 16mo. $1.25.

"A collection of some of Mr. Garland's essays, which attracted so much attention on their appearance in magazine form. They are on various topics, 'New Fields of Art,' 'The Future of Fiction,' 'The Drift of the Drama,' 'The Influence of Ibsen,' 'Impressionism in Painting,' 'Local Color in Fiction,' 'Literary Centres and Literary Masters,' and so forth."

GOSSE, EDMUND.

IN RUSSET AND SILVER. Printed at the University Press on English laid paper. 16mo. Cloth. $1.25 net. Half crushed levant. $3.50 net. Third edition.

Also 75 copies on large paper, numbered from 1 to 10 (Japanese vellum) at $6.00, and 11 to 75 (English handmade) at $3.50.

Mr. Gosse's literary workmanship (as befits a critic-poet) is unimpeachable; we do not think a careless or ill-turned line is to be found in his pages. — Edinburgh Review.

GRAHAME, KENNETH.

THE GOLDEN AGE. A volume of stories about children, for children and their elders. Delightfully refreshing in tone, and written with much charm of style. 16mo. Crushed buckram. $1.25.
Fifth thousand.

Since De Quincey's recollections of his own childhood, I cannot remember anything pleasanter than the very slight sketches that make up this little book. — W. D. HOWELLS, in Harper's Weekly.

MR. SWINBURNE, in The Daily Chronicle, March 31, says: "The art of writing adequately and acceptably about children is among the rarest and most precious of all arts. . . . 'The Golden Age' is one of the few books which are well-nigh too praiseworthy for praise. . . . The fit reader — and the 'fit' readers should be far from 'few' — finds himself a child again while reading it. Immortality should be the reward — but it must have been the birthright — of the happy genius which perceived the burglars vanishing 'silently with horrid implications.' . . . Praise would be as superfluous as analysis would be impertinent."

HALL, TOM.

WHEN HEARTS ARE TRUMPS. Verses. With decorations by Will H. Bradley. 18mo. $1.25. Half crushed levant, $3.50 net. Third edition.

Nearly a hundred pretty rhymes fill these prettily bordered pages. Some of them are serious and tender and pathetic, and some of them are humorous and rollicking and laughable, but they are all charmingly metrical and attractive. Any one who has an ear for rhythm and a heart for poesy, will find many a treat between these pages. Mr. Hall is a poet not be despised, and one day he will probably do some great work, as these verses evidence that he can. — New Orleans Picayune.

HINKSON, KATHERINE TYNAN.

OUR LORD'S COMING AND CHILDHOOD. Six Miracle Plays. With six illustrations and a title-page by Patten Wilson. Crown 8vo, set in antique type, printed on Dutch handmade paper. $2.00 net.

Mrs. Hinkson's utterance of Catholic faith is exquisite in its simplicity and sincerity. Mr. Wilson's drawings are in perfect sympathy, and the book is altogether attractive.

HOVEY, RICHARD.

THE MARRIAGE OF GUENEVERE. A Tragedy. With a cover designed by T. B. Meteyard. 12mo. $1.50.

The ablest and most poetic drama of the Arthurian period since Tennyson's. — New York Herald.

The Arthurian legend is handled with a power which really gives indication of good work to come, and the final situation [in the play] is a noble dramatic conception. — The Nation.

It is strong evidence of Mr. Hovey's originality, as well as of his daring, that this poetic play is in the main really his, and not merely an adaptation of "The Idyls of the King." — The Academy (London).

IBSEN, HENRIK.

LITTLE EYOLF. Translated by William Archer. 16mo. $1.50 net. In the Green Tree Library.

Second edition.

As we do not pretend to understand the play, we cannot attempt to criticise it. Its plot is a puzzle.—London Times.

Ibsen has never written a more interesting or a more intense or characteristic play.—Westminster Gazette.

"Little Eyolf" is stupid; and, from the literary point of view, stupidity means failure.—Philadelphia Press.

It is such work as this that gives assurance that Ibsen's influence is to be lasting. . . . The effect of "Little Eyolf" is singularly uplifting: it stirs the soul, the conscience; it quickens the sensibilities, it exalts one as few books have the power to do, and the secret of its force lies in its unyielding sincerity.—Kansas City Star.

The personages are mere abstractions, the dialogue is diffuse and pointless, and the story lacks the well-defined datum without which few plays have ever achieved success upon the stage.—London Daily News.

A miracle of dramatic construction, this play, with its terrible emotions and their gradual purification. The dialogue itself is masterly. There is not a cut which would not break the organism of the play.—St. James Gazette.

THE SIN-EATER AND OTHER TALES AND EPISODES. Author of "Pharais" and "The Mountain Lovers." 16mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

The author is a native of the Hebrides, and her writings have a touch of Northern Ossianic mysticism which is a new note in modern English letters.

"The Sin-Eater and Other Tales," by Fiona Macleod, is a volume of Celtic stories that touch the heart and reach the imagination. The book is full of charming pictures of Celtic Scotland, and some of her characters are so drawn that they will live and grow more and more in popular favor as the time passes away.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

The sketches are short, but the vivid word-painting is that of a spectator and a master.—Baltimore Sun.

THE WASHER OF THE FORD. 16mo. $1.25. More tales on the order of "The Sin-Eater."

MAETERLINCK, MAURICE.

PLAYS. Translated by Richard Hovey. With an introductory essay on "Symbolism." The Green Tree Library. 16mo. $1.25 net.

Second edition.

These plays are simply thrilling in their power. All criticism of their baldness of language is absurd, for the dialogue of the average play is altogether too smart. William Archer's censure of these little dramas for their repetition of sentences was superficial. These repetitions are used with immense skill, and they produce precisely that dramatic atmosphere which the author sought. The knowledge of stage values displayed in these plays is enormous. They are terribly fascinating to read; and we can imagine that an adequate performance of the "Princess Maleine" would destroy all hope of sleep for many a night.

PLAYS. Second series. Translated by Richard Hovey, with a preface by M. Maeterlinck. 16mo. $1.25. In the Green Tree Library.

This new series contains Pélléas et Mélisande, Alladine and Palomides, Home, The Death of Tintagiles, representing the latest and most important work of the celebrated Belgian writer. This is the only authorized edition in English, and has been revised by the dramatist himself.

He has the right stuff in him. He has the story-teller's gift. When you lay down the book the salient scenes and incidents and characters remain with you, — they are so vivid and picturesque. — St. James Gazette.

Mr. Gilbert Parker's book of Canadian tales has delighted us for more than one reason. The tales themselves are remarkable, and the language in which they are told is always distinguished. Mr. Parker has a thoroughly good notion of what a short story ought to be, and more than two or three stories in his book are as good as can be. — Speaker.

POE, EDGAR ALLAN.

THE WORKS OF EDGAR ALLAN POE. Newly collected, edited, and for the first time revised after the author's final manuscript corrections, by Edmund Clarence Stedman and George Edward Woodberry, with many portraits, fac-similes, and pictures by Albert Edward Sterner.

This is the only complete edition of Poe's works. The entire writings have been revised; innumerable errors have been corrected; quotations have been verified, and the work now stands — for the first time — as Poe wished it to stand. The editors contribute a memoir, critical introduction, and notes; the variorum texts are given and new matter has been added. The portraits include several which have never appeared in book form before, and the printing has been carefully done at the University Press, in Cambridge, on specially made, deckled edge paper. In fine — the edition aims to be definitive, and is intended alike for the librarian, the student, and the book-lover.

In ten volumes, cloth, price, $15.00 net a set; or separately, $1.50 net per volume.

Half crushed levant, ten volumes, $40.00 net; or the five volumes of tales, $20.00 a set.

The large-paper edition, limited to 250 numbered sets for America, contains a series of illustrations to the tales by Mr. Aubrey Beardsley, and a signed etching by Mr. Sterner, — not included in the small-paper edition. Proofs of all the pictures are printed on India paper. On handmade paper, octavo, vellum. Price, $50.00. Sold only in sets; numbers will be assigned as the orders are received.

The publishers have purchased all that remained (some 50 sets only) of the series of French illustrations made some years ago. There are in all seventeen etchings, which are gathered in a portfolio, and sold to subscribers to this edition of Poe's works at $5.00 the set on Japan, $4.00 on Whatman paper.

POOL, MARIA LOUISE.

RINDER, EDITH WINGATE.

THE MASSACRE OF THE INNOCENTS AND OTHER TALES. By Maeterlinck, Eckhoud, De Molder, and other leaders of the Belgian Renaissance. Translated by Edith Wingate Rinder. 16mo. $1.25 net. In the Green Tree Library.

Lovers of literature on both sides of the Atlantic owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs. Edith Wingate Rinder for these specimens of the literature of the Belgian Renaissance of to-day. They are well-chosen and excellently translated short stories by such men as Maeterlinck, Eckhoud (the Zola of Flanders), De Molder, Edmond Picard, Ganir, Richelle, Louis Delattre, etc. The real Belgian life of to-day is presented with absolute fidelity and directness, and there is a note of truth and sincerity pervading the works of each of these authors, whose styles are as varied as their names, which cannot fail to gain for them a high place in the literature of to-day. It is curious to note the stirrings of artistic and literary life in this, the most liberal country in the old world, which has only enjoyed a real liberty since 1830, and that under a monarchy! In sculpture, painting, and literature there is a reawakening which is making its power felt far beyond its own borders, demonstrating that the Belgian can show the sturdiness of the Briton, the "chic" of the Frenchman, the phlegm of the German, the fire of the Spaniard, and yet be himself after all. $1.25.

ROSS, CLINTON.

THE SCARLET COAT. A tale of the Siege of Yorktown. $1.25.

THE PUPPET. A story of adventure. $1.25.

Clinton Ross is a new man — but he has done some splendid work and gained deserved recognition among the great magazines.

SANTAYANA, GEORGE.

SONNETS AND OTHER POEMS. With titlepage designed by the author. Printed at the University Press on laid paper. 16mo. Buckram. Price, $1.25 net. Second edition, revised and enlarged.

None of the recent graduates (Harvard) who have attempted verse — not even Mr. Woodberry — shows such an easy mastery of poetic numbers as this Spaniard, to whom English rhythm is so native, and at the same time so expressive of high thought. — Springfield Republican.

SHARP, WILLIAM.

VISTAS. 600 copies. Printed at the University Press on laid paper. 16mo. Cloth. $1.25 net.

It would be superfluous to commend the high merit of such writing as this. And such as this, much else in the book also is. It is a book of rare excellence and real charm; a book to be read and re-read until the vistas beyond vistas which it contains have revealed their full beauty and significance. — The Academy.

THE GYPSY CHRIST AND OTHER TALES. Small 16mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

Stories of power and vivid coloring. Remarkable for variety of subject and splendid range of scenes. The characters are drawn from a half dozen different lands and peoples: from the gypsy tribes of North England to the French in North Africa: from Venice to Norway: from the docks of London to the Lake of Albano.

WIVES IN EXILE. A society novel. $1 25.

A collection of Professor Swing's best Essays, many of them read before the Chicago Literary Club — and now for the first time published.

They treat of subjects of all ages — from a splendid review of Homer's Odyssey — "An Old Picture of Life" — to "Linda Mellet" — a sensational novelette of the end of the century. They are nearly all literary, and represent the most lasting and serious part of Professor Swing's work.

TAYLOR, WINNIE LOUISE.

HIS BROKEN SWORD. A novel. With an introduction by Edward Everett Hale. Printed at the University Press on American laid paper. 12mo. Gilt top, deckled edges. $1.25.

Third edition.

It is a novel of a great deal of power of expression and a thoroughly sustained interest. For nearly two years the book has been out of print. An introduction has been prepared especially for this reissue by Dr. Edward Everett Hale. It was to him that the story, on its first appearance, was dedicated. He read it in the manuscript and spoke of it in the highest terms. — Publisher's Circular.

"Lincoln's Grave" was the Harvard Phi Beta Kappa poem of 1893, and was read before the Society in Sanders Theatre, Cambridge.

It is so fine and so true that I wonder it has not been published before. — Thomas Wentworth Higginson.

If we are not mistaken, a poem of permanent value was added to our literature when Mr. Thompson read these moving stanzas in Sanders Theatre last summer. . . . His art is well nigh perfect, and we are sure that the exalted patriotism of the poem will awaken hearty response and acclaim wherever it may be read. — Indianapolis News.

WATSON, H. B. MARRIOTT.

GALLOPING DICK. Being chapters from the life and fortunes of Richard Ryder, sometime Gentleman of the Road. 16mo. $1.25.

Fifth thousand.

In these times of smothery, erotic novels and unhealthy wailings, a dashing book of this nature is a blessing.—Chicago News.

For Dick Ryder was a highwayman of the type loved by the Englishmen of his day, — a compound of fine gentleman and daring cut-throat, equal to making love or robbing a bishop, doing everything with a ready wit and sufficient grace, and never losing heart even when the gallows loomed in sight.—Leeds Mercury.

For he is an artist to the tips of his fingers, and knowing his limitations, itself an element of genius, he remains to the end master of his materials. We know of no literary skater who can glide with greater grace and defter skill, and, above all, with ultimate safety, over the thinnest of thin ice than he.—Pall Mall Gazette.

There are not many writers who could succeed in getting inside this highwayman of a bygone day, and so completely and plausibly adapting his point of view upon every occasion. Dick shoots, gallops, makes love or swordplay, is polite, drunken, irritable, merry, bold, or cautious, as the humor serves him, but he is always a pretty figure of a man with a way about him and a certain rude creed and code of honor of his own. "The Quandary of the Bishop," which arises from his involuntary, even compulsory engagement in robbery as Dick Ryder's accomplice, is as amusing a tale as one could well wish to see.—New York Recorder.

Mr. Watson is a capital story-teller. Interest never wanes, excitement gallops and mirth bubbles over in the tales. He does not jog in any commonplace rut, and his style is delightfully unconventional and refreshing . . . . Few short stories are so absorbing as these, keeping interest at a high pitch and humor in the foreground. —Chicago Record.

WATSON, WILLIAM.

THE FATHER OF THE FOREST AND OTHER POEMS. With a portrait reproduced by photogravure. 16mo, deckled edges. $1.25.

The appearance of a new book by Mr. Watson has come to be regarded as a literary event second only in importance to the publication of new works of Mr. Swinburne and Mr. Morris.

This volume is noteworthy as containing the "Hymn to the Sea" and the poem written for the Burns Centennial.

It would be a notable contribution to modern poetry if it contained nothing else than the noble lines on "The Tomb of Burns."—Providence Journal.

A new volume of Mr. Watson's verse is a welcome addition to the tale of English poetry. If there was ever a time when competent critics denied that Mr. Watson was a poet, that time is past.—London Chronicle.

He is a capital poet, as any one not already familiar with may readily discover from his new volume.—New York Sun.

THE PURPLE EAST. Poems principally about Armenia. 75 cents.

WELLS, H. G.

THE ISLAND OF DR. MOREAU. $1.25.

A wonderfully strong and unique story.

This is the book about which there has been such a controversy in England.

We should have thought it impossble for any work of fiction to surpass in grewsome horror some of the problem-novels relating to the great sexual question which have been recently published, if we had not read the "Island of Dr. Moreau," by H. G. Wells. In the present instance he has achieved originality at the expense of decency (we do not use the word in its sexual significance) and common sense. Mr. Wells, as we have said, has talent, and he employs it here for a purpose which is absolutely degrading. It is no excuse that he should have made his book one that sends a thrill of horror through the mind of the reader.—Speaker.

Readers of "The Time Machine," "The Wonderful Visit," and "The Stolen Bacilus," will be prepared for something strange and sensational from Mr. Wells's pen. In "The Island of Dr. Moreau" they get it. It is a book full of horrors but free from the least suspicion of outraging Mrs. Grundy. To say it is a work of genius is to do it an inadequate justice.—London Literary World.

KEPHART, REV. C. J., A. M. Jesus the Nazarene. A Brief Life of Our Saviour, With a Parallel Harmony. The story of Christ's life arranged in chronological order and divided into chapters, indicating the years of his work. The style is clear, and the method of treatment excellent. The unique feature is the arrangement of the harmony and the references to the corresponding Scripture passages by columns in the margin. At a glance the reader can tell exactly in what portion of each Gospel he may find the narrative. The author very clearly explains the important questions regarding the dates of Jesus' life, the length of his ministry, etc. The author is thoroughly conversant with matters pertaining to the life of Christ, and his treatment is authoritative. The arrangement of this work makes it especially valuable to Sunday-school teachers and Bible students. A very careful introduction has been furnished by Dr. C. R. Blackall, editor of the Baptist Sabbath-school Literature, who is distinguished as a thorough Bible scholar and earnest Sunday-school worker. The book includes an appendix containing a brief dictionary of places, people, and institutions of Palestine mentioned in the Gospels, a general index, and a Scripture index. 12mo, cloth.....net 50

Library and Home Reading.

BRICKEY SORREL; or The Twin Cousins. By Mrs. Isadore S. Bash. The book narrates the upward progress of its leading character, from poverty and obscurity to a most honorable place as a minister of the gospel. The real object of the volume is to present in strong pictures the desolating power of intemperance. This feature is wrought out in the sad history of the lives of other characters in the story. The book is written in fascinating style, and will be read with great interest and profit. 254 pages, 16mo..... 75

MY FIVE WARDS; or, Aunt Huldah's Homilies. By Mrs. Julia McNair Wright. This volume is replete with practical thoughts on practical subjects of special value to young ladies and girls approaching young womanhood. The sage counsels of Aunt Huldah are represented in the form of conversation, strung, as the author aptly expresses it, on the merest thread of story. Common sense of rare soundness and a deep reverence for Bible authority characterize the book. 236 pages. 16mo..... 75

THE GOSPEL IN THE RIVIERA. A story of Italy. By Mrs. Julia McNair Wright. The popular author of this book has given us in its pages one of the choicest productions of her fruitful pen. The book details the struggles and sufferings of the Waldensian Protestants in their conflicts with Romanism. The facts on which it is founded were gathered by the author during her residence in Italy, and are presented with a vividness possible only to one who has been on the ground where the scenes are laid. 224pages, 16mo..... 75

The stub, or voucher, is retained in the book by the secretary as his record of the transaction. The "Order on the Treasurer" should be carefully filled with name, name of society, etc., amount and purpose for which used, and the proper names should be signed below. The "voucher" should show the balance on hand after the preceding payment, all the items included in the order, and the balance remaining after payment. Journeyings in the Old World;

Or, Europe, Palestine, and Egypt. Richly Illustrated with maps and more than one hundred engravings. By James W. Hott, D.D., Bishop of the United Brethren Church, with an introduction by Benjamin St. James Fry, D.D., late editor of the Central Christian Advocate, St. Louis. Sold only by subscription. Send for terms, territory, etc. Prices: cloth, plain edges, $3.00; cloth, gold edges, $3.75; morocco, gold edges, $4.50.

"I have not been trying to read the book, but really I cannot keep from reading it. It helps me to see things which I could not understand before. I have read many books on the Holy Land, and the best I could secure. My studies as a teacher have necessarily enlisted me greatly in such books, and yet this one is clearer than any book I have read on the Holy Land. What is remarkable in my home is the fact that my family did not allow it to be taken to my study, there to remain. But they all read it with like interest."—Dr. L. Davis, Union Biblical Seminary.

MERRYMOUNT PRESS

ITS WORK

I must honestly say, I think it [your printing] is the best I have yet seen produced in America, and as good in technique as anything I have seen outside William Morris's work.— J. M. DENT OF J. M. DENT & CO., LONDON.

R. D. B. UPDIKE desires to call the attention of Publishers and the Trade in general to the facilities afforded for good printing at The Merrymount Press. He has opened a printing office of his own under this style, that he may more exactly gain the effects he desires in his work, and because under these conditions the cost is lessened. Books of all sorts which require an individual treatment—novels, volumes of poetry, genealogies, sermons—are undertaken at the Press under Mr. Updike's supervision, and the plates supplied to publishers, or the whole book produced and furnished in complete form.

The Altar Book alluded to on the following page was set up at the Merrymount Press, and this was followed by The Nightingale—both books creditable, it is believed, to the Press. The interesting collection of types and ornaments of the Press have been collected from various sources with a great deal of care, with a special view to the production of thorough and artistic work. Estimates will be furnished on application.

After half the edition is sold the right is reserved to raise the price. And the right is also reserved to issue a limited edition of the Anglican Service, with the same decorations, to be sold in England.

For persons wishing to give the Altar Book to Churches as a Memorial, a simple form of inscription has been prepared, printed in the type and on the paper of the book. This forms part of a short "Note" supplied to subscribers, but issued independently of the Altar Book.

Circulars showing type and decorations, on application to the Publisher, D. B. Updike, The Merrymount Press, 7 Tremont Place, Beacon Street, Boston.

CRITICAL NOTICES.

A work produced in America, with all the devotional sincerity of the Middle Ages returned to harmonize with elements exactly representative of modern taste and skill. The beauty of the book consists in its standing absolutely complete, a work of art flawless in every minutest point. . . . . This book owes none of its beauty to any one point of decorative, illustrative or merely luxurious excellence. It is fine because it is symmetrical, a book as admirable for use as it is beautiful to the eye of the beholder. Mr. Updike has refused to depart from the standard of common-sense, which keeps a book upon a readable as well as upon an artistic decorative plane. Never has a book issued from the hands of an American or an English publisher in nobler guise than this. . . . . The perfect book is here.—New York Tribune.

Mr. Updike deserves well of his Church for the labour of love which has produced this magnificent volume. . . . . It is exactly and precisely what the Church prescribes, and nothing else . . . . And the book has the great advantage of being issued by authority. So far as we know, no similar missal possesses this. . . . . What was accomplished by the missal painter of the middle ages by creamy parchment and a wealth of colour and exquisite miniature work, Mr. Updike gives us in the measure of our days by the most careful book-making and by decoration in black and white.—The Nation.

A superb piece of book-making.—Springfield Republican.

THE NIGHTINGALE

By Hans Andersen. A Story for Children and a Parable for Men and Women. With decorative title-page and four full-page illustrations by Mary Newill of The Birmingham Guild of Handicraft. Printed on Arnold hand-made paper (folded in the Japanese manner) from old style type. Small 4to, decorated boards, $1.25.

A charming little volume. The illustrations are clear and effective, and the scene of the story being laid in China, have something the look of the pictures on old blue porcelain.—The Critic, New York.

A beautiful edition. . . . Exquisitely illustrated in modern decorative design. —The Bookman, New York.

THE QUEST: AMERICAN EDITION

Printed by hand at the Press of The Birmingham Guild of Handicraft, upon hand-made paper. Each number contains about 50 foolscap 4to pages, fully decorated with Borders, Headpieces, Tailpieces, and Initial Letters, as well as with Illustrations, by modern English designers chiefly of The Birmingham School, such as Gere, Edmund New, Louis Davis, Mary Newill, and others. Published in December, April and August. American Edition limited to 1000 copies. $2.00 a year.

An unassuming and honest attempt to produce a work of art. It is not the mere creature of a passing fashion.—Saturday Review.

VEXILLA REGIS. (The Royal Banners)

A Book for Every Day. Compiled by L. B. S. (Lucy Bradlee Stone) With decorative title-page. 16mo, $1.25.

Among books of its outward form, this volume stands as does Palgrave's Golden Treasury among anthologies, and attracts precisely the class of readers who, as a rule, cordially dislike books of this sort. As a critic says of it "There is a sequence of thought and an evolution of purpose which lift it clean out of fragmentariness and give it solidity and seriousness. For the best of the best of the best is here."

One of the best anthologies we have ever seen. . . . . There is a certain refinement and grace in these selections which will be keenly appreciated.—Boston Herald.

1. Carpentry for River and Garden. In two parts, namely: Part I.—Boat Building Made Easy. Part II.—Rustic Carpentry. Illustrated with numerous diagrams and engravings.

   The subjects treated in this book speak for themselves, but it may be pointed out that it is peculiarly appropriate as the initiatory volume of the series, and should be doubly welcome to amateurs, as it will appear just at the time when workers at home are seeking to exchange the limited area of the workshop for the wider space of the boat-building yard, and to enter on the construction of summerhouses and kindred structures that are alike useful and ornamental in any and every garden.

2. Mechanical Work in Garden and Greenhouse. In three parts, namely: Part I.—Geometry for Gardeners. Part II.—Sun-Dials and Dialing. Part III.—Greenhouse Building and Heating. Illustrated with numerous diagrams and engravings.

   In this volume gardeners, whether amateur or professional, are shown how to form with precision beds of any shape in garden or on lawn, how to indicate the progress of time by the sun, and how to build and warm a small greenhouse.

3. Ornamental Carpentry. In three parts, namely: Part I.—Wood Carving for Amateurs. Part II.—Decorative Carpentry. Part III.—Ornamental Lattice Work. Illustrated with original designs and working drawings.

   Here all who are fond of enriching woodwork at home are first shown how to handle and use the tools of the wood carver, and then how to apply the art of carving in wood combined with plain carpentry to the adornment of the house, and how to make and put together the curious lattice work so common in Egypt and the East, but hitherto almost unknown and but little practiced in this country.

4. Decorative Work for House and Home. With Instructions on the Decorations of Floors and Panels, and Hints on French Polishing. Illustrated with diagrams and many original designs.

   The subject-matter of this volume, like many of the other volumes of the series, is sufficiently indicated by its title; but it may be useful to say that the entire work of renovating the interior of the dwelling house is ably described—so completely, indeed, that any handy man could go to work and carry out the job successfully by following the instructions given, and that several novel methods of decorating floors are described in detail and illustrated by suitable designs.

5. Metal Working for Amateurs. In three parts, namely: Part I.—Brazing and Soldering. Part II.—Practical Gas Fitting. Part III.—Brass Casting at Home. With Instructions on the Mode of Joining Lead Pipes. Illustrated with numerous diagrams and sketches.

   This, possibly may be characterized as one of the most useful volumes of the series, presenting as it does in a combined form instructions in various kinds of metal work, in which information is often sought after by amateurs who fail to find any vade mecum in which the various kinds of work under consideration are described with the clearness and minuteness so much needed by the unpracticed workman.

6. Electrician (The) at Home. In two parts, namely: Part I.—Electroplating at Home in All Its Branches. Part II.—Electric Bells, Their Fitting and Management. Carefully illustrated with diagrams and plans.

   Since electricity has been brought into the service of man its theory and practice have presented such a powerful attraction for amateurs that there are few who, at some time or other, have not yielded to the fascination of the science, and tried their hand at a work whose results are so marvelous. In the two sections of this volume, originally written for "Amateur Work" by Mr. George Edwinson Bonney, the amateur electrician will find all the instruction he can possibly require for renewing the electroplating of his forks and spoons, and fitting up his home with electric bells.

7. Electrical Apparatus for Amateurs. In five parts. Part I.—How I Made my Telephones. Part II.—The Domestic Electric Light. Part III.—Magneto-Electric Machines, etc. Part IV.—A Cylinderical Electrical Machine. Part V.—How I Built my First Coil. Illustrated with numerous explanatory sketches and diagrams.

Amateur Work (The) Series. With folding supplements and hundreds of engravings. Among the subjects treated of in these volumes will be found: Lathe Making, Electroplating, Modeling in Clay, Organ Building, Clock Making, Photography, Boat Building, Bookbinding, Gas Fitting, Tools and Furniture, Veneering, French Polishing, Wood Carving, Plaster Casting, Fretwork, Decoration, Working Drawings, House Painting and Papering, Violin Making, Electric Bells, Brass Casting, Wood Jointing, Brazing and Soldering, Boot Mending and Making, China Painting, House

World's Religions Series (The). By the late G. T. BETTANY, M. A., B. Sc. The four volumes embraced in this series are intended to give in a popular manner an account of the principal religions or religious systems of mankind, past and present. Historic fact is followed as far as it can be ascertained, and theorizing has little place. The author's endeavor was to state simply and impartially what is the faith possessed by various peoples or associations, what are the objects of their worship, what are their practices, their ceremonies, their institutions. The author's personal opinions have been obtruded as little as possible, impartiality and fairness being aimed at. No doctrine is sought to be enforced, no creed to be dictated. Crown 8vo, cloth.

Recent Research in Bible Lands:

Its Progress and Results

Edited by

Professor Dr. Herman V. Hilprecht.

Too often, in these days of specialism, is it necessary for one who would have the latest and most authoritative word on a subject either to get, at a great expense, the elaborate or technical work written by the expert, or to be content with a collection of the facts brought together by some one who possibly is in no sense fitted to grasp and present the necessary salient points. Until the appearance of the book entitled "Recent Research in Bible Lands," there had never been published, on either side of the Atlantic, a single book in which the clergyman, the intelligent layman, or the skilled specialist, could find the main facts concerning recent discovery in the East, with the bearing of such discovery on the Bible. In this book the experts and specialists themselves who have been most actively connected with the work in Palestine, Babylonia, Assyria, Egypt, and Arabia, write interesting, and often vivid, accounts of their researches, the results of which are among the most wonderful and important ever attained. The name of the Editor of the book stamps it as in the highest degree authoritative.

With an Introduction by Dr. Hilprecht, and with maps and profuse illustrations. 12mo, pp. 275. Price, $1.50.

The Impregnable Rock of Holy Scripture.

By the Rt. Hon. WILLIAM EWART GLADSTONE, M.P.

A series of articles written for The Sunday School Times by Mr. Gladstone, and afterwards issued in book form by a special arrangement with their eminent author. Revised and enlarged edition.

This book shows how the Bible appears to a statesman and man of affairs, after he has carefully weighed the evidence which the critics have brought against it. Perhaps Mr. Gladstone's powers were never used to better purpose than in the writing of this book. Cloth, gilt top, with portrait and facsimile letter of commendation from Mr. Gladstone to his American readers. 12mo, pp. 424. Price, $1.00.

"We believe it to be one of the most timely, and, in certain respects, most valuable, contributions that have lately been made to the discussion relative to the divine inspiration and authority of the Scriptures."—The Advance.

"The book is marked by the peculiar beauties belonging to the gifted author. It is rich in argument, brilliant in wit, full of varied illustrations, wide and philosophic in thought."—Journal and Messenger.

The Divine Order of Human Society.

By ROBERT ELLIS THOMPSON, S.T.D.

Professor Thompson is widely known as a writer on social and economic problems. By appointment of the Faculty of Princeton Theological Seminary, he lectured, in the winter of 1891, on Christian Sociology. His lectures, which then awakened the keenest enthusiasm of the students, were at once published in book form. They discuss the practical problems of the family, the nation, the school, and the church, in the light both of the Scriptures and of modern experience. Cloth, gilt top, uncut edges. 12mo, pp. 274. Price, $1.00.

"It is a noticeable utterance, and is fitted to emancipate many a mind from the bonds of narrowness, whether found in political or religious thinking."—Public Opinion.

"In no volume of our acquaintance is the whole social problem so fully and so satisfactorily presented."—The Christian Intelligencer.

The National Hymn-Book.

Edited by ROBERT ELLIS THOMPSON, S.T.D.

Comprising the hymns which are common to the hymnaries of the Baptists, Congregationalists, Episcopalians, Lutherans, Methodists, Presbyterians, and of the Reformed churches, with the most usual tunes.

The practical value of this book in union meetings, hotel services, and the like, will be readily apparent. Hardly a hymn can be chosen from it which would not be familiar to any gathering of Christians, since every hymn in the book is a standard hymn, set to its usual tune, and is well known in all the leading denominations. It is bound in fine cloth, and is easily kept wide open. 12mo, pp. 188. Price: per hundred, $50; per dozen, $6.50; single copies by mail, 60 cents.

"One who notes each hymn in the collection, going through the book from page to page, cannot but be impressed with the conviction that almost every one is, tested by the highest standards, a classic. They are the 'finest of the wheat,' without blemish, and instinct with spiritual vitality and power."—The Advance.

Kadesh-barnea.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Its Importance and Probable Site, with the Story of a Hunt for it, including Studies of the Route of the Exodus and the Southern Boundary of the Holy Land.

Kadesh-barnea has long been recognized as the key to the history of the Israelites' wanderings in the wilderness, and its site has been in dispute for twenty centuries or more. Dr. Trumbull's discoveries in the East practically determine the route of the exodus, the main outlines of the wanderings, and the southern boundary of the Holy Land. The bearing of this book on current questions of the "higher criticism," and on the latest discoveries among the ruins of Lower Egypt, will command for it the attention of biblical scholars generally. The story of the desert hunt for the lost site of Kadesh-barnea is an attractive story of adventure quite out of the usual experience of travelers. Medium 8vo, pp. 478, with two maps and four full-page illustrations. Price, $3.00.

"This is the most important work upon the geography of the Holy Land produced in America since the 'Biblical Researches' of Edward Robinson. . . . Dr. Trumbull . . . has established the site of Kadesh-barnea so thoroughly, and so fortified his conclusions on every hand, that we believe no one hereafter will think of questioning them. . . . The book is written in an interesting and fervent style. The author grapples with his readers. His enthusiasm is contagious. The critic has to take care and stand firm lest he be swept off his feet. We thank Dr. Trumbull for his labor of love and enthusiasm. He has done honor to American pluck and indefatigable research. We are proud of the book and the man."—PROFESSOR C. A. BRIGGS, in The Presbyterian Review.

The Blood Covenant.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Primitive Rite, and its Bearings on Scripture. Revised and enlarged edition.

The disclosures of this book throw light on the terminology of Scripture. They show what such words as "blood," "life," "life-giving," "sacrifice," "communion," meant at the time of the writing of the Bible; and incidentally they show how mistaken have been the modern popular views of those terms. It is not, strictly speaking, a theological treatise, but it presents primitive facts by which theological opinions must be tested. The first edition of this work was received with high praise on both sides of the Atlantic. The new edition contains important additions, as meeting questions raised by eminent critics in their reviews of the work. Small 8vo, pp. 390. Price, $2.00.

"A flood of light is poured on the Incarnation, the Atonement, the Lord's Supper. Dr. Trumbull believes his thesis. He argues for it strongly, with wide and accurate learning, and with reverent faith. He has written a book that every Christian student ought to read,—and to re-read. You may not agree with it, but you will find it bristling with facts and remarkably suggestive. If the author is right in his positions, then both exegesis and theology as human sciences of divine things are improvable sciences. The value of the book to a student is increased by a long appendix and by topical and biblical indices."—The Examiner.

Studies in Oriental Social Life.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

These studies are on Betrothals and Weddings in the East, Hospitality in the East, and Funerals and Mourning in the East. To these are added various topical studies of Oriental ideas and customs, such as Prayers and Praying in the East, Calls for Healing in the East, The Primitive Idea of "The Way," The Oriental Idea of "Father," The Samaritan Passover, Lessons of the Wilderness, etc. Taken together, these chapters cover nearly the whole social life of the East, and furnish a key to the social environment of the Bible story. Nor are they without their bearings on many matters now in controversy among biblical critics.

While the various topics of this book are presented in the light of careful study, they are treated popularly. Hence the work will have value alike to scholars on the one hand, and to general readers on the other. It is very different from a mere book of travels in the East, or from a miscellaneous collection of Oriental illustrations, while it has the advantages of both, and more. Topical and scriptural indexes render it available for use in Bible study generally. Medium 8vo, pp. 437. Illustrated. Price, $2.50.

"Dr. Trumbull's treatment is simplicity itself, without any laborious theory. He groups a large number of incidents and occurrences from his own observation and his wide reading, which make vivid and lifelike the environment of the biblical narrative. . . . On each of these subjects there are those minute incidents which are frequent enough in the East, but whose knowledge is difficult, and which are indispensable to the Bible student . . . . Taken together, the book is one of the most useful additions to the Bible student's library to be procured anywhere. It is certain to prove of great value in the Bible class, and its freedom from the polemic spirit, its keen observation, and its broad comprehension of the subject, are certain to lead to its general use."—The Press, Philadelphia.

Friendship the Master-Passion.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Treatise on the Nature and History of Friendship, and Its Place as a Force in the World.

The claim is boldly made in this book that friendship has been a more potent factor in the world's forces than any other sentiment or passion, not excepting ambition, avarice, or love; and the cumulative proofs of this thesis are presented in detail. Part I. treats of the Nature and Scope of Friendship. Part II. gives examples of Friendship in History, including all the great epoch-makers in the realms of royalty, heroism, religious progress, struggle for civil liberty, philosophy, and poetry. It is very handsomely published, and is well suited for a gift-book for the holidays, or any other season. Medium 8vo, pp. 413. In box. Price, $3.00.

"Thorough scholarship, good sense, and a frank belief in sentiment as a manly attribute, permeate Dr. Henry Clay Trumbull's essay on 'Friendship the Master-Passion.' Unfortunately, the English language has no words suitable to fill the gap between acquaintance and friend, and the word 'friend' has been forced to do service for every form of mutual interest. Dr. Trumbull, however, disregards these intermediate forms of friendliness, and places the sentiment of friendship, as he uses the word, above the lover's love. It is the love of Jonathan for David, Damon for Pythias, 'love with the selfish element eliminated,' the purest and highest form of human affection, which is here studied in its psychological, ethical, religious, historical, and poetic bearings. This volume is filled with a spirit not often found this side of the Elizabethans, and in refreshing contrast to the modern good-natured but unconcerned treatment of the word and thing."—The Outlook.

The Knightly Soldier.

By CHAPLAIN H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Biography of Major Henry Ward Camp. New and revised edition.

This book was written while the War was still in progress. The inspiration, and the pressure, of active service in the field, were upon its writer, as he hastened to complete the life-record of his friend. It was published, in Boston, in the spring of 1865; and it rapidly passed from one edition to another, with a steady growth in public favor.

Major Camp was an exceptionally choice specimen of the best student-soldier of the Union. His biographer was his intimate friend, and his close companion in camp, in field, and in prison. In these respects the book is unique among the personal stories of the War. So clearly was this recognized by the reading public generally, that its sixth edition appeared with the special endorsement of the governors of all the New England states, and of fifteen prominent college presidents, East and West. It is in view of this record of its earlier success that the book is again given to the public, in response to repeated requests for its reappearance. 12mo, pp. 323. Illustrated. Price, $1.50.

"We are glad to see a 'new and revised' edition of 'The Knightly Soldier.' Not that the first edition required 'revision' of any kind, but simply for the merit of the book from the first, and its value as an inspiring tribute to one of the noblest young heroes who offered up his life in the last war. When we first read the book we thought it was the very best biography that had grown out of the War. As we look it over now in the new edition, it has lost none of its freshness, and we still are unable to think of any other to compare with it. The young student-soldier and his memoir are both perfect in their way. If any in all that struggle deserved the lines which Dr. Bushnell applied to Camp in his commemorative address at Yale in 1865, he did:

'For Lycidas is dead, dead ere his prime,
Young Lycidas, and hath not left his peer.'"

The Independent.

A Lie Never Justifiable.

A STUDY IN ETHICS.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Dr. Trumbull proves his thesis by a careful treatment of the duty of veracity, and of the sin of lying, in the light of Bible teachings, of ethnic conceptions, and of centuries of discussion. The book is written in the crisp, straightforward style of one who is seeking to clear up real difficulties, and bring great principles into the light. 16mo, pp. 250, cloth, gilt top. Price, $1.00.

"Whatever Dr. Henry Clay Trumbull writes is sure to be scholarly, vigorous, and original in view. His latest work, 'A Lie Never Justifiable,' is no exception, for it is an able and earnest defense of the position that a lie's a lie for a' that, and in spite of the fact that good and learned men a-many in the past or at the present time do not bring it under wholesale condemnation under all circumstances. . . . One of the best points in the book is the writer's emphasizing the need of stricter definition for the word, confusion arising from a confounding of justifiable concealment with wilful deception."—The Hartford Courant.

Prayer:

ITS NATURE AND SCOPE.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

These thoughts about prayer were for the most part brought out in hours of earnest discussion. They are written primarily for the meeting of difficulties which trouble many minds with reference to the true basis of prayer, its scope and its limitations. No one can intelligently read the book without gaining a clear conception of what prayer is, what it ought to be to every one, and why it is not always what it ought to be. Those who have an interest in prayer will welcome Dr. Trumbull's helpful explainings and plain definings. 12mo, pp. vi, 160. Beautifully bound in dark blue, white and gold. Price, 75 cents.

"There is such spiritual quality to Dr. Trumbull's writings that they have a charm all their own."—Religious Herald.

"A clear and crisp presentation of a subject often surrounded with mystery in Christian minds. We commend its perusal to those who are honestly seeking to know what prayer is and to learn how to pray."—The New York Observer.

In Tribulation:

OR, THE BLESSING OF TRIALS.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Words of comfort are needed by every one. The proffered words of comfort in this book are written out of experience in trials, and in their blessing, and they show what we can gain through trials as in no other way. The book abounds in hopeful views of life, and in courage-inspiring revealings of the "bright side." 12mo, pp. vi, 150. Bound in fine cloth, gilt top. Price, 75 cents.

The Point of Contact in Teaching.

A Plea for the Little Children of the Sunday-School.

By PATTERSON DU BOIS

The ideal point at which a child's attention is to be engaged, or his instruction is to begin, is an experience or point of contact with life. One who understands this truth need never have any great difficulty in getting an entry into the child's mind. In order to make it effective for the Sunday-school teacher, Mr. Du Bois wrote and issued a little tract on this subject two years ago. It was not only immediately appreciated by Sunday-school workers, but some of the secular normal schools, discovering its universal educational value, quickly absorbed a large part of the edition. It is now republished with considerable amplification for the sake of greater explicitness, and with numerous illustrations showing how the principle has been, and therefore can be, applied in dealing with individual scholars, with classes, and with schools. 12mo, about 100 pages. Bound in fine cloth. Price, 60 cents.

"As soon as I read it, I felt that I must send for more copies to give to young teachers among my acquaintance."—Mrs. Merrill E. Gates.

"Let me know the price of it, that I may recommend it to the scores of mothers who come to me in their perplexity about the International lessons for their little ones."—Elizabeth Harrison.

"I rejoice that a truth so sadly forgotten by those who should remember it most has received so emphatic a restatement at your hands."—E. Morris Fergusson

"Read it once a month as long as you teach school."—Notice for the students in the Primary Training Class in the Rhode Island Normal School, 1894.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Series of Thirty Articles on the Nature and Scope and Methods of the Wise Training of Children.

This work is the ripest result of the lifetime study and experience of a Christian educator, in the sphere of the home training of children, as distinct from their teaching in the week-day school or the Sunday-school. Every precept in its pages has been tested by the principles of Christian philosophy, and by actual experiment in more than one generation of little ones. 12mo, pp. 311, cloth, gilt top. Price, $1.00.

"One can scarcely read a page of the book without coming upon some thought or suggestion that will be helpful in properly dealing with the boy or the girl that we know. If this book were studied by every parent who now has a flock of little ones around him, we do not at all doubt that the effect would be very perceptible on the whole American people in its coming generation."—The Lutheran.

Beckonings from Little Hands.

By PATTERSON DU BOIS.

Eight Studies in Child-life. With designs and drawings by the author, and with process-work copies from photographs.

This book appeals not only to parents, but to other students of child life and child nature, because of its scientific deductions from careful observation and experiment on the part of an observing father in peculiarly close relations to his little ones. It is not a memoir, but a study of the most enlightening, sympathetic, and helpful sort, and as such will be welcomed by the teacher and the student of children.

The "Beckonings" are a subtle revelation, not only of child nature, but of the significance of many a commonplace incident in the life of the child.

Where and how the children are so often misunderstood—how to get at what the little ones really do mean—how to help them and not hinder them at times which seem, and are, very hard to them—how to be the best kind of a father or mother at all such times—all this is touched upon skilfully and helpfully. These "Beckonings" are real beckonings from real children,—real incidents from real life, illustrating principles which ought to actuate true fatherhood and motherhood everywhere. 16mo, pp. 182. Illustrated. Price, $1.25.

"No one can read that little book without acquiring more loving sympathy, more psychical knowledge of children's needs, their struggles and their victories. I have rarely read a book which has so touched me. . . . It ought to be in the hands of every earnest parent in the land."—Elizabeth Harrison, Principal of Chicago Kindergarten College.

"To me it is one of the most touching and helpful volumes in my bookcase. I do not tire of the lovely child faces in it, and the consecrated vision of parenthood it unveils to me is ever fresh and inspiring."—Kate Douglas Wiggin.

"The whole book is written in a noble spirit of tenderness and humility, and shows alike insight and the keenest sympathy."—Richard Burton, in The Hartford Courant.

"It is such a tender and subtle study of real little souls and hearts."—Frances Hodgson Burnett.

"I have nowhere seen anything approaching it in tender suggestiveness, and appreciation of child life."—Margaret E. Sangster, editor of Harper's Bazar.

"A man who has read it as thoroughly as I have, cannot say too much good about it."—Edward W. Bok, Editor The Ladies' Home Journal.

"The book has touched me deeply because it records so many intimate experiences."—Professor H. H. Boyesen, Columbia College.

"I have read parts of it twice—the chapters called 'The Fire Builders' and 'The Unconscious Tribute.' These two studies have in them that sweet natural pathos which is always the despair of mere art. The book throughout is full of the tenderest lessons, and I would it might fall into the hands of every man and woman to whom God has entrusted the care of little children."—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

Principles and Practice.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Series of Brief Essays. In six volumes, each volume complete in itself.

1. OURSELVES AND OTHERS.
2. ASPIRATIONS AND INFLUENCES.
3. SEEING AND BEING.
4. PRACTICAL PARADOXES.
5. CHARACTER-SHAPING AND CHARACTER-SHOWING.
6. DUTY-KNOWING AND DUTY-DOING.

These Essays, in the realm of character and conduct, deal with fundamental principles in their application to the affairs of every-day life. Into each of the six volumes are clustered those essays which bear a logical relation to one another and to a truth common to them all. Sq. 16mo, 200 pages per book, tastefully bound in cloth, and enclosed in a box. As a Christmas gift, these books will be found most attractive and helpful. Price, $2.50 a set, or fifty cents a volume for less than a set.

"These essays show a keen power of discrimination, united to clearness of statement, aptness of illustration, and felicity in the art of putting things. The author seeks to touch the deeper springs of life and character. His themes, therefore, are living ones, and his treatment of them fresh, earnest, and both morally and intellectually stimulating."—The Christian Register.

Yale Lectures on the Sunday-School.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

The Sunday-school: Its Origin, Mission, Methods, and Auxiliaries. The Lyman Beecher Lectures before Yale Divinity School for 1888.

Every pastor, superintendent, and thoughtful Sunday-school teacher, will wish to possess this book sooner or later. It deals with the principles underlying the Sunday-school as an institution, and with its relations to the family, to the pulpit, and to other spheres of church work. Small 8vo, pp. 415. Handsomely bound in cloth. Price, $1.50.

"These lectures will not only hold their own in the brilliant series of Lyman Beecher Lectures before the Yale Divinity School, but they stand alone on merits of their own as the unique presentation of a subject which has not before received so worthy a treatment. The volume is prepared for convenient use, with a bibliographical and topical index."—The Independent.

"It is an evidence of the progress which has been made in recognizing the true dignity of the Sunday-school, that a course of lectures on this theme should have been called for in a leading theological seminary. It is an equally notable proof of the same thing, that, in response to such a call, such a course of lectures should have been secured."—The Congregationalist.

Teaching and Teachers.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Dr. Trumbull's book "Teaching and Teachers" has already found its way into the hands of many thousand Sunday-school workers. Nearly thirty thousand copies have been sold. It is to-day the popular hand-book on Sunday-school teaching. 12mo, pp. 390, bound in cloth. Price, $1.00.

"Every teacher in Sunday-school will feel his work widened in scope by reading this book. It is by far the best that has yet appeared, or is likely to appear, on this topic, and the thoroughness for which this calls would be an unspeakable blessing to every school in the land."—The Outlook.

"We hesitate a little in speaking of this book, from fear that our language may be thought extravagant. We believe that a better book on the subject has never appeared, and that, if read and pondered, it will open a new era in Bible-school instruction."—The National Baptist.

A Model Superintendent.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

An object-lesson will help a superintendent more than will a fine-spun theory. The book "A Model Superintendent" shows how a good superintendent actually did his work:—In the study; with the teachers; in the desk; with the scholars; among the records; at special services. It is a sketch of the life and work of Henry P. Haven, of the International Lesson Committee, by the Editor of The Sunday School Times. Bound in cloth, with fine steel portrait of Mr. Haven. 12mo, pp. 188. Price, $1.00.

"He was indeed a model superintendent, and this book tells how he became such: it exhibits his methods, and gives, besides, the precise forms and exercises which he used. Edited so ably and intelligently, and possessing in itself such valuable characteristics, the volume will be widely useful."—The New York Observer.

"We hardly know of a volume which so pleasantly and so thoroughly introduces a novice to the methods of work that have been introduced, by that sanctified common sense with which Mr. Haven was liberally endowed, in our best regulated modern Sunday-schools."—The Examiner and Chronicle.

Teachers'-Meetings.

THEIR NECESSITY AND METHODS.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Dr. Trumbull believes that a Sunday-school is not a Sunday-school without a teachers'-meeting. He not only shows why this is true, but he tells, with practical illustrations, how such meetings may be conducted successfully even under difficulties which are commonly supposed to be prohibitive of this essential exercise. Every superintendent who is in earnest about the perfecting of the work of his school ought to know this book through and through. 12mo, pp. 60. Bound in fine cloth. Price, 30 cents.

The Ten Commandments.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Here is a new view of the Ten Commandments in the light of Oriental methods of thought and manner of speech. Instead of being arbitrary commands of God, they are shown to be ten clauses in a covenant of love. To gain this view of them is to learn how love is the fulfilling of the law. 12mo, pp. 38. Price, 25 cents.

"Dr. Trumbull is a thinker and a lucid writer. Clear thoughts and plain words are apt to go together. He puts the Decalogue in a new light, not viewing it as a summary of commands, but as the conditions of treaty between God and man. Readers will find new ideas dawning while they trace the lines of this admirable little booklet."—Michigan Christian Advocate.

Light on the Story of Jonah.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

The book of Jonah has been for centuries an object of special interest to Bible scholars as well as of doubts and sneers to scoffers. This study of it brings into new relations with it important facts in recent Assyrian discoveries, and in the history of Nineveh. It attracted attention among scholars on the occasion of its reading before the American Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, and it can be read to advantage by all who are interested in the truth of the Bible story. 12mo, pp. 19, with illustrations. Price, 20 cents.

"H. Clay Trumbull finds a welcome awaiting everything he writes. His books are always deeply thoughtful, original, and brilliant. This scholarly argument, written so lucidly and reverently, will show to thousands of Bible students new power and beauty and significance in one of the most marvelous bits of history recorded in the Old Testament."—The Golden Rule.

Two Northfield Sermons.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

I. MORAL COLOR-BLINDNESS. II. OUR DUTY OF MAKING THE PAST A SUCCESS.

These sermons of Dr. Trumbull before the conferences of college students at Northfield impressed their hearers at the first time of their delivery, and their influence has been recognized in the lives of not a few since then. They are now published in permanent form in response to frequent requests for copies of them. Their practical lessons bear directly on present duty, and are an incitement to high endeavor in manly living. In one volume. 12mo, pp. 53. Price, 30 cents.

"These two handsomely printed sermons, delivered to young men, mostly college students, during the summer season, are sound, simple, striking, and stimulating."—The Lutheran.

"They are excellent sermons, choice in diction, and intensely practical. For young persons they will serve a noble purpose."—Wesleyan Methodist.

Sunday-School Ways of Working.

A Book for Teachers, Superintendents, and Pastors of all Denominations.

Sunday-School Ways of Working includes no less than 112 articles wholly devoted to practical, tested methods—not theories—of Sunday-school work, presented in suggestive, usable form. To this more than 100 Sunday-schools have contributed something from their most effective ways of doing good things in class work and in school work. All sorts of schools are represented, varying from the little mission held in an old election booth to the huge "institutional" school with its wide resources. All sorts of teachers, superintendents, and pastors are practically certain to find many helpful hints in this collection. It is not a mass of matter thrown together in hap-hazard fashion. There is orderly arrangement throughout under various subject headings, with a plain table of contents. The articles are fully descriptive, many of them illustrated with specimen blanks, orders of exercise, blackboard hints, etc., and treat of the main phases of Sunday-school work, from the getting of a class or school together to the erection of a modern Sunday-school building.

The book has been printed on a fast press, and is bound in pamphlet form, in order to make a low price possible. Large 8vo, pp. 96. Price, 20 cents.

Byington's Chart of Jewish National History.

To fix in one's mind in consistent, easily remembered order, a series of great historical facts, is not readily done without eye help. Byington's Chart of Jewish National History gives just this help by the simplest, most direct method, in its showing forth, at a glance, the main issues of Jewish progress from Abraham to the Christ.

The chart is absolutely free from intricate tracings of any kind. It is ample in size—3½×6 feet—large typed and clear, and is sold at the low price of $1.00. Such charts are usually sold for several dollars, but The Sunday School Times plan is to give the very best matter at the lowest possible price. In its contents and size the chart is particularly well adapted for the use of the Sunday-school as a whole. Made on heavy map paper, and substantially mounted. Price, $1.00. Pocket edition bound in stiff cloth covers (size 4¼×6¾). Price, 30 cents.

What two leading biblical experts write about it is a guarantee of its practical value:

"Admirable for simplicity and perspicuity. It tells at a glance the number of tribes which constituted the representative portion of the Hebrew people at each period of their history, from the days of Abraham to the final dissolution of the nation; it shows, at the same glance, their whereabouts at any moment of this time. Dates given are accurate, but vexed questions of chronology are not obtruded."—Prof. Dr. John D. Davis, Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J.

"The beauty of Mr. Byington's chart is its simplicity. It aims to do just one thing,—namely, to present in a single view the external history of Israel. Confining itself to this one purpose, it dispenses with details, and omits disputed questions. I know of no other graphic device so well fitted to help one grasp rapidly and firmly an outline of the ascertained facts on which all knowledge of Israelitish history must be built up."—Prof. Dr. Willis J. Beecher, Auburn Theological Seminary, Auburn, N. Y.

ONE COPY, one year, ... $1.50

ONE COPY, five years, full payment in advance $5.00

To Ministers, Missionaries, and Theological Students, $1.00 a year, or $4.00 for five years, full payment in advance.

School Clubs

Any school, or any set of teachers, or of scholars, will be supplied with as many copies as may be desired, at the following yearly club rates:

For any number of copies (more than one) mailed to individual addresses, $1.00 each.

For five or more copies in a package to one address, 50 cents each. A package thus sent is addressed to one person only, and no names can be written or printed on the separate papers.

The papers for a club may be ordered sent partly to individual addresses at $1.00 each, and partly in a package to one address, at 50 cents each, when so desired.

The papers for a club should all go to one post-office, although in cases where a portion of the teachers of a school get their mail matter from one post-office, and others in the same school get theirs from another, the papers will be sent accordingly. This applies to package clubs, at the fifty-cent rate, to the extent that large clubs may be divided into packages of five or more, if desired.

Free Copies

One free copy, additional, will be allowed for every ten copies paid for in a club of either character. The free copies for package clubs cannot well be sent separately, but will be included in the package.

Additions may be made at any time to a club—such additional subscriptions to expire at the same time with the club as originally ordered, and the rate to be the proportionate share of the yearly club rate.

Schools that are open during only a portion of the year, may subscribe at club rates for such a length of time as the papers may be required.

Change of Address

Subscribers to whom the paper is mailed, separately, at the rate of $1.50 or $1.00 a year, may have the address changed at any time without charge. Members of package clubs do not have this privilege, but any such may have his paper changed from the package to an individual address, by paying fifty cents, the difference in the price of the two classes of subscriptions, or may order an extra copy of the paper sent to a vacation address, at the rate of three cents a week for a short term, or twenty-five cents for three months.

CURIOSITIES OF OLDEN TIMES

By S. BARING-GOULD, M. A.

12mo, Maroon Cloth. 301 Pages. Price, $1.50

CONTENTS

1. The Meaning of Mourning. 2. Curiosities of Cypher. 3. Strange Wills. 4. Queer Culprits. 5. Ghosts in Court. 6. Strange Pains and Penalties. 7. What are Women Made Of? 8. "Flagellum Salutis." 9. "Hermippus Redivivus." 10. The Baroness de Beausoleil. 11. Some Crazy Saints. 12. The Jackass of Vanvres. 13. A Mysterious Vale. 14. King Robert of Sicily. 15. Sortes Sacræ. 16. Chiapa Chocolate. 17. The Philosopher's Stone.

"Mr. Baring-Gould's 'M. A.' might, by a free translation, be rendered Master of Anecdote—with profuse apologies to him and the institution from which he obtained it—for he has filled his book with that which at all times will be found to be a panacea for the most desperate and prolonged fit of the blues imaginable. His collection indicates great research and a discriminating mind; also an ability to retell in a pleasing and trouble-dispelling manner stories that few are acquainted with, but which all must take an interest in when they have an opportunity to become acquainted with them."—New York Times.

"The volume as a treasury of antiquarian lore is one of rare interest. The author in his peculiar field of research has few superiors."—The Advertiser.

"Pure amusement, but of a high and recondite character. A repertory of the oddest and drollest articles imaginable, from which it is hard to break away until the whole store has been examined."—The Guardian, London.

"He takes his reader away out of the ruts of the ordinary life and the tracks of ordinary thought, into a realm in which both sense and nonsense are deliciously mingled. We hardly know whether his 'Curiosities' are better adapted to the amusement of people who have little to do or the recreation of people whose good fortune it is to have more than enough to do."—The Church Standard.

"The wit which enlivens these curious stories is not their least recommendation."—The Bookman.

THE CHURCH FOR AMERICANS

By WILLIAM MONTGOMERY BROWN

Archdeacon of Ohio

12mo, Cloth, Illustrated. 450 Pages. Price, $1.25

CONTENTS

1. Church Membership. 2. Our Controversy with Romanists. 3. Our Controversy with Denominationalists. 4. The Mother Church of England. 5. The American Church. 6. Objections to the Episcopal Church. 7. Why Americans Should Be Episcopalians.

"I have read it through, and it is a piece of work well done. It will be of great use to lay readers, Sunday-school teachers, the young clergy, and all laymen who desire to be intelligent Churchmen."—Rt. Rev. HUGH MILLER THOMPSON, D. D.

"It is refreshing to fall in with a man who thoroughly believes in his own church, and who knows why he believes in it. Archdeacon Brown is such a man, and he has written a book which will make other men feel as he does, and enable them to give good reasons for it. We heartily wish that this book might be scattered broadcast, not only among non-Episcopalians, for whom it is primarily intended, but even among the members of the Church."—The Church Standard.

"It is a book to put into the hands of the thousands in all our dioceses who know little or nothing about the origin and history of the Church, and are, on that account, prejudiced against her. It meets objections to her claims in a uniformly Christian spirit, and with an array of arguments and facts that cannot fail to carry conviction to every earnest seeker after truth."—The Churchman.

"The book is remarkably free from all controversial bitterness, and will be of great value in the aggressive work to which the whole Church on this continent has now to address herself."—The Church Evangelist.

THE BOOK OF PRAISE

For Church, School, and Home. Edited by the Rev. G. W. SHINN, D. D., and H. B. DAY, Organist. Containing 272 pages of services, hymns, and music. Strongly bound in heavy board covers. 35 cents per copy, postpaid. ($30 per hundred.)

An ideal book for Sunday Schools, Chapel Services, and Mission Stations. It fills the long felt want of high-class singable music for general use at extremely low cost. It is selected entirely from the revised Prayer Book and the new Hymnal. Here are some few commendations selected from many:

"It is a book that will grow in Church favor."—The Living Church.

"Let me thank you for this publication, and through you the compilers, for their acceptable labors in behalf of our people, old and young. I am confident the work will commend itself to our Church people, and that you and the compilers will receive, as you deserve, more than mere words of grateful acknowledgment."—BISHOP GEORGE F. SEYMOUR.

"I have been examining it all through, and I am surprised at the quantity and quality of its matter. It is a really remarkable piece of work both for variety and completeness. It would be all that many Churches would require, to say nothing about Sunday and Day Schools. I look upon it as a splendid success and a real multum in parvo."—REV. W. T. GIBSON, D. D.

"The bright musical contribution to our Church hymnody called 'The Book of Praise' will be of invaluable use to Missions, small Parishes, Sunday Schools, and the home circle. It ought to have a very large sale."—REV. F. W. BARTLETT, D. D.

"This is one of the most compendious books of sacred music that we have seen in a long while. It gives for ordinary congregations all that is needed for a plain service of Morning and Evening Prayer and Holy Communion, together with the twenty selections of Psalms arranged for chanting to singable chants. Next follow the Occasional Anthems and a simple setting for the Burial Service, and then a simple, plain song service for Daily Prayers. For the Sunday School there are services for special seasons. Next come family prayers, after which are two hundred of our best hymns set to the best music. The volume closes with twenty-eight grand old tunes, such as Duke Street, Warwick, Dundee, Martyrdom, and others which we hope will never cease to be used in our churches."—The Church Standard.

WAR OF THE REVOLUTION SERIES.

By Everett T. Tomlinson.

THREE COLONIAL BOYS. A Story of the Times of '76. 368 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

It is a story of three boys who were drawn into the events of the times; is patriotic, exciting, clean, and healthful, and instructs without appearing to. The heroes are manly boys, and no objectionable language or character is introduced. The lessons of courage and patriotism especially will be appreciated in this day. — Boston Transcript.

THREE YOUNG CONTINENTALS. A Story of the American Revolution. 375 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

The second volume of the War of the Revolution Series gives a vivid and accurate picture of, and the part which our "Three Colonial Boys" took in, the events which led up to the "Battle of Long Island," which was thought at the time to be a crushing defeat for the Continental Army, but which in fact was the means of arousing the Colonies to more determined effort.

OTHER VOLUMES IN PREPARATION.

TRAVEL ADVENTURE SERIES.

By Col. Thos. W. Knox.

IN WILD AFRICA. Adventures of Two Boys in the Sahara Desert. 325 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

This story is a fascinating and instructive one, and we cheerfully commend the book to parents and teachers who have the responsibility of choosing the reading for young readers. — The Religious Telescope, Dayton.

LAND OF THE KANGAROO. Adventures of Two Boys in the Great Island Continent. 318 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

The late Col. Thos. W. Knox was a famous traveler and writer of boys' books of travel and adventure. His late book (finished only ten days before his sudden death) describes a portion of the world in which he took a vast interest, and of which little is known in this country. Australia, the great island continent, the land of the kangaroo, and a country of contradictions, is most interestingly described.

OTHER VOLUMES IN THIS SERIES ANNOUNCED LATER.

BRAIN AND BRAWN SERIES.

By WILLIAM DRYSDALE.

THE YOUNG REPORTER. A Story of Printing House Square. 298 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

If all boys are as interested in this book as the particular boy in our own family, it is the success of the season. Dick, the hero, is a splendid fellow, who works his way up from reporting small matters to a high position as an author and journalist. It teaches lessons of industry, fidelity, and temperance. — Library Bulletin, New York.

THE FAST MAIL. Story of a Train Boy. 328 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

The birthright of every American boy is the expectation that he might sometime become President of the United States. Bert Walker did not aspire as high as this, but he had the determination, pluck, and common sense which enabled him to be a successful train boy and a railroad man. Any boy can make as much of a success of himself as Bert Walker did, and "The Fast Mail" will be an inspiration of the right kind to thousands of boys who are just starting out in life.

OTHER VOLUMES IN PREPARATION.*

FIGHTING FOR THE FLAG SERIES.

By CHAS. LEDYARD NORTON.

JACK BENSON'S LOG; or, Afloat with the Flag in '61. 276 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.25.

An unusually interesting historical story, and one that will arouse the loyal impulses of every American boy or girl. The story is distinctly superior to anything ever attempted along this line before. — The Independent.

MEDAL OF HONOR MAN; or, Cruising among Blockade Runners. 300 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.25.

This second of Fighting for the Flag books takes Jack into a series of exciting adventures along the Florida Sounds. He interviews the famous Alabama in a night chase down the coast, and finally is decorated by his captain with the Navy Medal of Honor.

OTHER VOLUMES IN PREPARATION.*

SERAPH, THE LITTLE VIOLINISTE. By MRS. C. V. JAMISON. 305 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

A most charming and delightful story of a little girl who had inherited a most remarkable musical talent, which found its natural expression through the medium of the violin. The picturesqueness of Mrs. Jamison's stories is remarkable, and the reader unconsciously becomes Seraph's friend and sympathizer in all her trials and triumphs.

ORCUTT GIRLS; or, One Term at the Academy. By CHARLOTTE M. VAILE. 320 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

Mrs. Vaile gives us a story here which will become famous as a description of phase of New England educational history which has now become a thing of the past — with an exception here and there. The Academy, once the pride and boast of our fathers, has given way to the High School, and girls and boys of to-day know nothing of the experiences which "The Orcutt Girls" enjoyed in their "One Term at the Academy."

MALVERN. A Neighborhood Story. By ELLEN DOUGLAS DELAND. 318 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50.

A most attractive and interesting story by a writer who has won a vast audience of young people by her stories. Malvern is a small suburban town in New Jersey. The neighborhood furnishes a queer assortment of boys and girls. How they felt and acted, what they did, and how they did it, forms an interesting narrative.

ABOVE THE RANGE. A Story for Girls. By THEODORA R. JENNESS. 325 pp. Illustrated. Cloth. 12mo. $1.25.

An Indian story for girls. A mission school for the daughters of the Dakota tribes is most interestingly described. The strange ideas and beliefs of these wild people are woven into the thread of the story, which tells how a little white girl was brought up as an Indian child, educated at a mission school, and finally discovered who her parents were.

QUARTERDECK & FOK'SLE. By MOLLY ELLIOT SEAWELL, author of "Decatur and Somers," etc. 272 pp. Illustrated. $1.25.

Miss Seawell is exceptionally gifted in the line of instructing and amusing young people at the same time, and many a boy pricks up his ears at the sound of her name, in the hope of another of her lively, and at the same time instructive and high-spirited volumes. This one will sustain her reputation well, and will be read with eager interest. — Congregationalist, Boston.

FOREMAN JENNIE. A Young Woman of Business. By AMOS R. WELLS, editor of The Golden Rule. A new edition. 268 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.25.

This is a book for those who are called the "working people." No people of earth have a better right to be proud of their place and name. All good people will hail the book and wish for more like it. — Convention Teacher, Nashville.

CAP'N THISTLETOP. By SOPHIE SWETT, author of "Mate of the Mary Ann," etc. 266 pp. Illustrated. $1.25.

This claims to be a girls' book, but the boy who does not take it all in, and then wish for more, must be a very queer kind of a boy. Of course the girls will like it; isn't it written for them? — Presbyterian Journal, Philadelphia.

THE MYSTERIOUS VOYAGE OF THE DAPHNE. By Lieut. H. P. WHITMARSH, R. N., and others. 305 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.25.

This volume, mechanically beautiful as to type and paper, is an unusually good collection of short stories, and is well and freely illustrated. Lieutenant Whitmarsh contributed two unique sea stories, which are instructive as well as very interesting. Others are by the best-known writers for young people in the country. — Epworth Herald, Chicago.

BIG CYPRESS. By KIRK MUNROE, author of "Fur Seal's Tooth," "Camp-mates," etc. 164 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.00.

The story is so fascinating that it will hold the absorbed attention of every boy and girl reader to the end. — Boston Transcript.

A bright, wide-awake book, as interesting and helpful for girls as for boys. — Golden Rule.

PHILIP LEICESTER. By JESSIE E. WRIGHT, author of "Freshman and Senior," etc. 264 pp. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.25.

The real motive of the story is a lesson for mothers, — that God will be with the children of love and prayer, even though they may be passing through the fires of temptation and bad influence. — The Evangelist, New York.

LADY BETTY'S TWINS. By E. M. WATERWORTH. With 12 illustrations. 116 pp. Cloth, 75 cents.

A quaint little story of a girl — a little girl — who had a propensity for getting into trouble, because she had not learned the lesson of obedience. She masters this, however, as the story tells, and in doing so she and her brother have a number of experiences.

THE MOONSTONE RING. By JENNIE CHAPPELL. With 6 full-page illustrations. Cloth, 75 cents.

An old ring plays an important part in this charming little story. It brings together a spoiled child, the granddaughter of a rich and indulgent old lady, and a happy little family of three, who, though poor, are contented with their lot. This acquaintance proves to be of mutual advantage.

THE MARJORIE BOOKS. 6 vols. Edited by LUCY WHEELOCK. About 200 illustrations. Price of set, $1.50.

A new set of books for the little ones, better, if possible, than even Dot's Library, which has been so popular. Full of pictures, short stories, and bits of poetry.

THE BEACON LIGHT SERIES. 5 vols. Edited by NATALIE L. RICE. Illustrated. Each book, 96 pp. Cloth. Price of set, $2.50.

A collection of bright, attractive stories from the best-known writers for young people in the Junior and Intermediate classes.

DOT'S LIBRARY. 10 vols. Edited by LUCY WHEELOCK. 400 illustrations. Price of set, $2.50.

Without question the most delightful set of books for little ones. Over 400 illustrations.

PELOUBET'S SELECT NOTES. By F. N. PELOUBET, D. D., and M. A. PELOUBET. A Commentary on the International Sunday-School Lessons. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

This commentary is the one book every teacher must have in order to do the best work. It interprets the Scripture, illustrates the truths, and by striking comments convinces the mind.

CHAPTER 17.

1 The lot of Manasseh. 7 His coast. 12 The Canaanites not driven out. 14 The children of Joseph obtain another lot.

THERE was also a lot for the tribe of Manasseh; for he was the firstborn of Joseph; to wit, for Machir the firstborn of Manasseh, the father of Gilead: because he was a man of war, therefore he had Gilead and Bashan.

16 And the children of Joseph said, The hill is not enough for us: and all the Canaanites that dwell in the land of the valley have chariots of iron, both they who are of Beth-shean and her towns, and they who are of the valley of Jezreel.

17 And Joshua spake unto the house of Joseph, even to Ephraim and to Manasseh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power: thou shalt not have one lot only:

18 But the mountain shall be thine; for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it down: and the outgoings of it shall be thine: for thou shalt drive out the Canaanites, though

AND David made him houses in the city of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David said, None ought to carry the ark of God but the Levites: for them hath the LORD chosen to carry the ark of God, and to minister unto him for ever.

3 And David gathered all Israel together to Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the LORD

Christ beginneth ST. MATTHEW, 5. to preach.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 ¶ Now when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee;

13 And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim:

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

15 The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles;

16 The people which sat in darkness saw great light; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up.

17 From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 ¶ And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 ¶ And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judæa, and from beyond Jordan.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Christ beginneth his sermon in the mount: 3 declaring who are blessed, 13 who are the salt of the earth, 14 the light of the world, the city on an hill, 15 the candle: 17 that he came to fulfil the law. 21 What it is to kill, 27 to commit adultery, 33 to swear: 38 exhorteth to suffer wrong, 44 to love even our enemies, 48 and to labour after perfectness.

AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and

REMEMBER now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them;

2 While the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain:

3 In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern.

7 Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.

8 ¶ Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher; all is vanity.

9 And moreover, because the preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; yea, he gave good heed, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs.

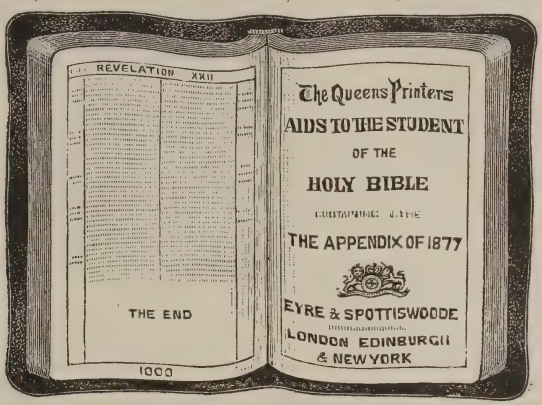
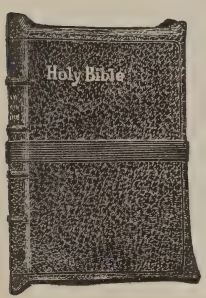
THE EYRE & SPOTTISWOODE TEACHER'S BIBLES.

The Original, The Best, The Most Complete.

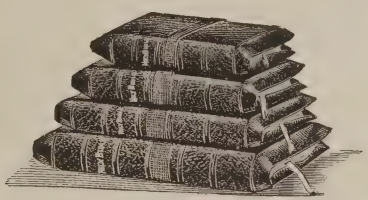


SUPPLIED IN FOUR SIZES.

REDUCED PRICES, IMPROVED QUALITY.



Persian Morocco.



French, Levant grain, leather lined to edge.

Best Levant.

REASONS WHY

The Eyre & Spottiswoode Teacher's Bibles

ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

1. They are the predecessors of all existing Teacher's Bibles, all of the so-called Teacher's Bibles now in the market being more or less patterned after the model established in 1875 by the "Queen's Printers," Messrs. Eyre & Spottiswoode.

2. The "Aids" in these Bibles reflect the Scholarship of the great English Universities. They are not mere compilations by unknown hands, but the work of scholars of recognized eminence and authority, Professors and Specialists in the several departments of Bible study, the authenticity of whose work is certified to by their signatures. No part is anonymous.

3. The Concordance is fuller and more complete than in any competing Book, while its typographical arrangement of the initial words in heavy Gothic type makes it more useful than any concordance now in a Bible.

4. The Paper and Presswork are unexcelled ; this is especially noticeable in the "thin white paper" editions, which we claim are more compact and better printed than any in the market.

5. The Bindings are superior in quality of material, workmanship, and finish.

6. They do not rely on the charm of a name for recognition, but combine scholarship, intrinsic merit, first-class mechanical excellence, and moderate price.

7. Imitation of the leading features of these books by rival houses is the best testimony to their essential superiority. After critical comparison with the competing Bibles of other publishers, these editions were adopted by the two great English Societies, The Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and The Religious Tract Society.

CAUTION : Be sure the trade-mark "E. & S." appears on the title-page ; see that the References are in outside marginal columns, none others are genuine.

A Unique Teacher's Bible.

The REV. F. N. PELOUBET in the Senior Sunday School Quarterly, 2d quarter, 1895, says: "Probably the most complete and perfect Bible for teachers and pastors in existence is the Variorum Teacher's Edition, published by Eyre and Spottiswoode. It not only has the helps usually found in Teacher's Bibles, revised and improved to the very latest date, but it has at the foot of each page the various Renderings and Readings, with the authorities, so that at a glance the teacher can know whether he is speaking by authority, can correct his impressions, and can receive no little light on the meaning of all difficult passages. It brings at a glance what could elsewhere be gained by long research or special books. It is beautifully printed, beautifully bound. It is a work of art as well as of learning."

Why is the Variorum Teacher's Bible the Best?

Because it contains MORE VALUABLE INFORMATION as to Textual readings than all the other Teacher's Bibles put together.

Because ON THE SAME PAGE AS THE TEXT the Student has prepared for him the very best results of Biblical Criticism and Scholarship, and the Evidence for and against the Revised Version.

Because the Articles in the "Aids" are written by the ABLEST AND MOST EMINENT SCHOLARS.

Because THE INFORMATION IS CONDENSED and is the result of the most recent investigations, and is RELIABLE.

Because the Authorities are quoted in each case, except where a general agreement is acknowledged.

ST. LUKE, IV.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The temptation and fasting of Christ. 13 He overcometh the devil: 14 beginneth to preach. 16 The people of Nazareth admire his gracious words. 33 He cureth one possessed of a devil, 38 Peter's mother in law, 40 and divers other sick persons. 41 The devils acknowledge Christ, and are reproved for it. 43 He preacheth through the cities.

AND Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness,
2 Being forty days tempted of the devil. And in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.
3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.
4 And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.
5 And the devil, taking him up into a high mountain, showed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.
6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it.
7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine.
8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.
9 And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence:
10 For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee:
11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

Paul's defence THE ACTS, 26. before Agrippa.

CHAPTER 26.

2 Paul, in the presence of Agrippa, declareth his life from his childhood, 12 and how miraculously he was converted, and called to his apostleship. 24 Festus chargeth him to be mad, whereunto he answereth modestly. 28 Agrippa is almost persuaded to be a Christian. 31 The whole company pronounce him innocent.

THEN Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for himself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself: I think myself happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews: especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews; which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers: unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews. Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead? I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth. Which thing I also did in Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them. 11 And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted

CHAPTER IV.

WHEN therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that I make and baptize more disciples than John, 2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,) 3 He left Judæa, and departed again into Galilee. 4 And he must needs go through Samaria. 5 Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. 6 Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour. 7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. 8 (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.) 9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans.

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have

MORNING PRAYER. 11

To give knowledge of salvation unto his people : for the remission of their sins,

Through the tender mercy of our God: whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us;

To give light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death : and to guide our feet into the way of peace.

¶ Or this Psalm.

Jubilate Deo. Psalm c.

O BE joyful in the LORD, all ye lands : serve the LORD with gladness, and come before his presence with a song.

Be ye sure that the LORD he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves : we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

O go your way into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise : be thankful unto him, and speak good of his Name.

For the LORD is gracious, his mercy is everlasting : and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

¶ Then shall be said the Apostles' Creed by the Minister and the People, standing. And any Churches may, instead of the words, He descended into hell, use the words, He went into the place of departed spirits, which are considered as words of the same meaning in the Creed.

I BELIEVE in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth:

And in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord: Who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, Born of the Virgin Mary: Suffered under Pontius Pilate, Was crucified, dead, and buried: He descended into hell; The third day he rose again from the dead: He ascended into heaven, And sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty: From thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead.

6 MORNING PRAYER.

¶ Here, all standing up, the Minister shall say,

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

Answer. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Minister. Praise ye the Lord.

Answer. The Lord's Name be praised.

¶ Then shall be said or sung the following Anthem; except on those days for which other Anthems are appointed; and except also, when it is used in the course of the Psalms, on the nineteenth day of the month.

Venite, exultemus Domino.

O COME, let us sing unto the LORD: let us heartily rejoice in the strength of our salvation.

Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving: and show ourselves glad in him with psalms.

For the LORD is a great God: and a great King above all gods.

In his hand are all the corners of the earth: and the strength of the hills is his also.

The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands prepared the dry land.

O come, let us worship and fall down: and kneel before the LORD our Maker.

For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.

O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness: let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

For he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: and with righteousness to judge the world, and the people with his truth.

¶ Then shall follow a Portion of the PSALMS, as they are appointed, or one of the Selections of Psalms. And at the end of every Psalm, and likewise at the end of the Venite, Benedicite, Benedictus, Jubilate, may be, and at the end of the whole Portion, or Selection from the Psalter, shall be said or sung the Gloria Patri:

GLORY be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost:

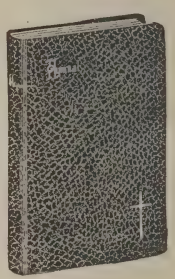
SAVIOUR, for the little one,
Safely gathered in Thine arms,
Ere the battle had begun,
Victor, spared from war's alarms,
We who toil and struggle sing
Praise to Thee, the children's King.

2 First of all Thy martyr-band,
Infants for Thy sake were slain;
Day by day, from every land,
Infants swell the guileless train,
Who, this vale of tears untrod,
Stand before the throne of God.

3 Thou dost give and take away,
Full of love, in all Thy ways:



Seal grain.

MY God, accept my heart this day,
And make it always Thine,
That I from Thee no more may stray,
No more from Thee decline.

2 Before the cross of Him Who died,
Behold, I prostrate fall;
Let every sin be crucified,
And Christ be all in all.

3 Anoint me with Thy heavenly grace
And seal me for Thine own;
That I may see Thy glorious face,
And worship near Thy throne.

4 Let every thought, and work, and word,
To Thee be ever given;
Then life shall be Thy service, Lord,
And death the gate of heaven!

430 L. M.

JESU, Thou joy of loving hearts!
Thou Fount of life! Thou Light of men!
From the best bliss that earth imparts
We turn unfilled to Thee again.

2 Thy truth unchanged hath ever stood;
Thou savest those that on Thee call;
To them that seek Thee, Thou art good,
To them that find Thee, all in all.

3 We taste Thee, O Thou living Bread!
And long to feast upon Thee still;
We drink of Thee, the Fountain Head,
And thirst from Thee our souls to fill.

Gifts of blessing to bestow

LORD, a Saviour's love displaying,
Show the heathen lands Thy way;
Thousands still like sheep are straying
In the dark and cloudy day.

2 Shades of death are gathering o'er them,
Lord, they perish from Thy sight!
Let Thine angel go before them;
Bring the Gentiles to Thy light.

3 Fetch them home from every nation,
From the islands of the sea;
By the word of Thy salvation

DR. MESSITER'S MUSICAL HYMNAL.

The Hymnal

REVISED AND ENLARGED

AS ADOPTED BY THE GENERAL CONVENTION OF 1892

WITH MUSIC

As used in Trinity Church, New York

EDITED BY

A. H. MESSITER, Mus. Doc.

ORGANIST OF TRINITY CHURCH, NEW YORK

The music of this Hymnal takes its tone from the music of Trinity Church, so favorably known for its devotional and dignified character. Its editor, Dr. A. H. Messiter, stands well amongst our foremost composers, organists, and choir instructors, in matters of skill, reverence, and thorough accomplishment in all that pertains to sacred music. For over a quarter of a century the musical successes of "Old Trinity" under the leadership of its accomplished organist have been famed far and wide. Dr. Messiter's musical career is a guarantee for the work so conscientiously and thoroughly done in the compilation of the "Trinity" Hymnal.

SUPPLIED IN THE FOLLOWING STYLES:

OPINIONS OF COMPETENT CRITICS ON DR. MESSITER'S MUSICAL HYMNAL.

"Dr. Messiter has displayed excellent judgment in his selection and harmonization of tunes. Especially are we glad to note that he has refrained from changing the standard harmonies of well-known tunes, a liberty that has been taken in the past in other editions of the Hymnal."—N. Y. Tribune.

"Dr. Messiter may be congratulated upon having produced a book worthy of the church and one which is bound to be widely used."—The Call, Newark, N. J.

"One dominant and capital feature of the book is the congregational character of the music, which is not over-elaborate or of extreme compass. . . . We think the more the work is used, the more it will be appreciated and its value demonstrated."—Living Church.

"A natural apprehension that the music preferred by Dr. Messiter might be somewhat too severe for ordinary taste will be modified, we think, if not removed, on an examination of this work. The general character of the music is distinctly congregational."—The Church Standard.

"There is hardly a weak or vapid tune in the book—scarce a page that will not stand the wear of years. The collection is dignified, solid, sedate, devotional. . . . As time goes by, its stately and endearing music will be better understood and more and more appreciated."—The Churchman.

"'Messiter' is the production of a man who knows how to edit a musical Hymnal. It is not spoiled by the ugly errors in harmony, and by the musical misprints, that detract from the value of its rivals. It is a scholarly and accurately edited work. From the standpoint of the ecclesiastical musician it is facile princeps. The editor has not tried to produce a merely popular work. Being himself a thorough master of his art, he has not had to depend upon the advice and assistance of musical writers whose acquaintance with church hymnody, and the rules of four-part writing, is not what it ought to be. . . . 'Messiter' is the book that will be commended by those whose judgment is accompanied by knowledge and taste."—Southern Churchman.

5 But now it is come unto thee, and thou [11] faintest;
It toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.
6 Is not thy fear of God thy confidence,
And thy hope the integrity of thy

A Manual for the Study of Insects.

By JOHN HENRY COMSTOCK, Professor of Entomology in Cornell University and in Leland Stanford Junior University, and ANNA BOTSFORD COMSTOCK, Member of the Society of American Wood-Engravers.

This handbook is designed to meet the needs of teachers in the public schools and of students in high schools and colleges. The book is so written that any intelligent teacher can find out for himself the more important facts of insect-life. Its most distinctive features is a series of analytical tables by means of which the family to which any North American insect belongs can be determined. Under the head of each family the characteristics of the family, both as regards structure and habits, are given, and the more common species are described. It is thus possible for the student to determine to what family any insect belongs, and to learn the habits of the insects of that family, and, in case of the more common species, to learn the name of the insect.

The book consists of 711 pages, and is illustrated by 797 figures in the text and six full-page plates, one of which is colored. Nearly all of the figures have been engraved especially for this work.

Price, $3.75; or by mail, postpaid, $4.09.

The Microscope and Microscopical Methods.

By SIMON HENRY GAGE, Professor of Anatomy, Histology, and Embryology in Cornell University.

Fifth edition rewritten, greatly enlarged, and illustrated by 103 figures in the text.

Price, $1.50, postpaid.

From the American Monthly Microscopical Journal, Dec., 1891: "It is up to date, and the section devoted to homogeneous immersion objectives, the substage illuminator, the camera lucida, the micro-spectroscope and the micro-polariscope will be especially welcome to workers. . . . Altogether, it is one of those books that the student and worker in microscopy cannot afford to be without."

From Nature, Sept. 8, 1892: (Review by Rev. W. H. Dallinger, editor of the last edition of Carpenter. The Microscope and its Revelations.) "In short, this treatise lays the foundation for a thorough microscopical training, entirely adapted to the wants of medical students."

From the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, Jan. 26, 1893: "We know of no other work so well calculated to give a beginner a clear and sufficient insight into the principles involved in microscopical observation and in the proper care of the instrument and specimens."

First Lessons in Insect-Life.

An Introduction to Nature Study.

By JOHN HENRY COMSTOCK, with many original illustrations engraved by ANNA BOTSFORD COMSTOCK.

This is a more elementary book than the Manual for the Study of Insects. It contains directions for collecting and preserving specimens, and for breeding insects, and a series of lessons on the structure and classification of insects, also chapters on pond-life, brook-life, orchard-life, forest-life, and roadside-life.

How to Hunt for a Book.

SOME booksellers think that the easiest way to hunt for a book is—to let their customers do it for them. When the latter do the hunting they generally take a book where they find it, and so some booksellers always lose a sale, and oftentimes a customer. These booksellers might, in many cases, be as willing as "Barkis" to do the hunting, but they lack the training, or the knowledge how to do it, or the proper tools.

In order to give some assistance in this direction The Publishers' Weekly, (59 Duane Street, New York,) has issued a volume entitled "THE PROFESSION OF BOOKSELLING," prepared by A. Growoll, its managing editor, in which such a bookseller as we have referred to above will find directions for hunting down a book, and what tools to use in doing it. Not only does it do this, but it undertakes to give reasonably full and practical information on a number of other subjects which it is useful for a bookseller to know. There are, for instance, chapters on the arrangement and care of stock; how to insure against loss by fire; moving and "taking stock;" how to keep a stock of music; how to keep paper-bound books issued in series; how to keep newspapers, magazines, and books issued in parts, and other like subjects. The chapter on How to Keep a Circulating Library alone will save a dealer many headaches in helping him to set up such a department in his store, in selecting a stock of fiction for it, and in devising a scheme for lending books, etc.

For the beginner there are hints on preparatory training, on entering the profession, a course of reading, how to become useful in the store, how to learn stock, how to dust, and other things which he must know if he would become a successful bookseller's assistant. A competent authority—himself an experienced bookseller—says of the book that "the young bookseller can learn more by a thorough perusal of this book than he could through many years of active experience." Another, of the same kind, writes: "A wise employer will furnish this encyclopædia of information concerning the business of selling books free of cost to his clerks; because those who study it cannot help becoming more useful, and so more profitable to him who employs them."

"THE PROFESSION OF BOOKSELLING" will be in three large octavo parts, with illustrations, bound in boards, at $2.00 a part, net. Two volumes are now ready, each being complete in itself and containing a full index.

We suppose you have our other bookseller's aids—The Publishers' Weekly, "The American Catalogue," "The Annual Catalogue," "The Publishers' Trade List Annual," etc. If not we invite you to read the following pages and see whether you can do without them. As soon might a carpenter work without a saw, a plane, or a chisel, as a bookseller without any of those enumerated above.

The Publishers' Weekly.

THE AMERICAN BOOK TRADE JOURNAL.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, established in 1872, with which was incorporated the American Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular (established in 1852), by purchase from Mr. George W. Childs, is recognized as the independent representative of the publishing and bookselling interests in the United States.

The central feature of the paper, that makes it an indispensable aid to the book trade, to libraries and to literary people, is its Bibliographical Department. Every possible facility of reference is afforded by a combination of methods which records the books, by the week, the month, the season and the year, under the author, the publisher, the title, the subject and the class. It is acknowledged that no other journal, at home or abroad, supplies as practical and satisfactory a record of the publications of its country.

The bibliographical department includes:

1. A "Weekly Record" of all new American publications and reprints, giving their full titles (according to the rules of American Library Association), with place and date of publication, publisher's name, size, number of pages and price; and also descriptive notes of books received. This first and practically the official record is arranged alphabetically by the authors or titles, and for ready reference is placed in the same accessible position in each number.

2. A weekly "Order List," being brief-title entries, with prices, of the "Weekly Record," arranged alphabetically by the publishers. The object of this list is to present at a glance the simultaneous issues of certain publishers and to save time in the making up of orders.

3. A monthly "Index to the Weekly Record," being short-title entries, with the publisher's name and the size and price, arranged alphabetically by the authors, with references from the titles or catchwords and from the subjects. With each entry is given also the number of the "Weekly Record" containing the full-title entry and note.

4. A monthly "Class Synopsis," grouping the works of the month under such heads as Biography, Description, Education, Fiction, Fine Arts, History, Law, Literature, Medical Science, Physical and Mathematical Sciences, Poetry and the Drama, Political and Social Science, Theology and Religion, etc.

5. A semi-annual classified list of Forthcoming Publications, given in the Spring and Fall Announcement numbers, in which also the announced books are more fully described under the names of the publishers, arranged alphabetically.

6. An annual Index to the books of the year by author, title and subject, in one alphabet in the so-called Annual Summary Number, which generally is published in the last week of January. In this number is also given a classified summary of the more prominent publications of the year.

7. Regular Lists of the Seasons, published as follows: A complete priced catalogue of Educational Books, in July; a priced list of the Holiday Books and prominent Juvenile Books of the year, in November; a list of Guide and Summer Books, in May.

8. Weekly lists of the more prominent New English Books.

9. Special Bibliographies.

The Literary Department includes comprehensive intelligence as to books forthcoming and publishing movements at home and abroad, gathered with the aid of representatives in other cities; editorial discussions on book and trade subjects, as copyright, postal questions, book production and manufacture, etc.; original contributions and representative extracts on like topics; old-book chat; notes on catalogues; notes on auction sales; journalistic notes; business notes; literary and trade notes, etc.

The Advertising Department is by no means a subordinate feature in a journal chiefly devoted to books. In THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, indeed, it is so representative of the publishing enterprises of the day that it becomes an essential supplement to the other departments.

A minor but practical and convenient feature is the "Books Wanted" column, giving subscribers an opportunity under the most favorable circumstances to search for books which may be out of print or unobtainable through the regular trade channels.

"The Publishers' Weekly and Library Journal 1 frequently quote in the Journal Officiel on matters concerning the book-trade and libraries."—G. DEPPING, Librarian of St. Geneviève and Editor of the Journal Officiel, Paris.

"The careful cataloguing and excellent descriptive notes in the New York Publishers' Weekly are good examples of what book committees are glad to have before them."—H. R. TEDDER, F.S.A., and E. C. THOMAS, B.A., in the Encyclopædia Britannica, vol. xiv.

"I fully appreciate the value of your excellent Weekly, as well as your own personal services and sacrifices in the interest of the trade. We have all much to thank you for. You richly merit the united and constant support of the trade in every section of the country."—ROBERT CLARKE, Cincinnati.

"Has risen to be the indispensable journal of the American book trade. I can from my own experience recommend this journal, edited with practical knowledge and ability, to those wishing to keep posted on subjects pertaining to bibliography, bibliopoly and literature in America."—Dr. JULIUS PETZHOLDT, Editor of the Newer Anzeiger für Bibliographie und Bibliothekwissenschaft.

"Your paper is now a real benefit to the public and the book trade."—S. C GRIGGS & Co., Publishers, Chicago.

"The Publishers' Weekly is primarily, as its name indicates, a journal for the publishing and bookselling trade, and it aims to give all the information concerning books and literature generally which is of interest to every person engaged in any capacity in the preparation and distribution of books. In that respect it is probably the most thorough trade journal published in any country. Whilst The Publishers' Weekly is intended primarily for those who make and sell books, it is no less useful for bookbuyers, and it is as interesting to those who wish to know something about the course of current literature although unable to invest in books except in the most modest way."—Cleveland Herald.

"We beg you to accept our congratulations upon the appearance of the number" [Christmas season, 1880].—HARPER & BROTHERS.

The Library Journal.

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

The Library Journal was established in 1876 by the co-operative efforts of the leading librarians on both sides of the Atlantic. Its chief object is to be a practical help to the every-day administration of both large and small libraries, and to effect a saving by enabling library work to be done in the best way, at the lowest cost. The Journal especially meets the needs of the smaller libraries, offering them the costly experience and practical advice of the largest. In refraining from doing imperfectly what is done so well by the several journals specially devoted to antiquarian or purely historical interests, the Library Journal is enabled to give its chief attention to modern bibliography and current literature as represented particularly in its departments of "Cataloguing and Classification;" "Bibliography" (proper); "Library Economy and History," and "Anonyms and Pseudonyms."

A feature of practical value is the series of comparative articles on the methods of representative libraries regarding every-day work and details. The series began in April, 1889, and includes among others: "How We Treat New Books." "How We Choose and Buy New Books," "What We Do About Duplicates," "How We Reserve Books," "What We Do with Pamphlets," "The Management of Periodicals," "Registration of Borrowers," "How We Protect Rare and Illustrated Books," "Access to the Shelves," "Fiction in Libraries," "How to Keep Unbound Maps," and "Collection and Registration of Fines." The practical usefulness of this series will be in enabling librarians to go to their boards or committees with these statements of the work of other libraries in justification of any improvements the librarian wishes to suggest.

"The larger libraries, of course, all subscribe for the Library Journal. I cannot see how any small library can do without it. I am receiving a dozen letters a week from small libraries asking me questions which have been answered fully in the Library Journal. My custom is to answer briefly, and refer the inquirers to the Journal, advising them to subscribe for it forthwith."—W. F. POOLE, Newberry Library.

"I regard the Library Journal as one of the most important and indispensable aids to all who are connected with the management of libraries in any way. True economy of methods, time and money may be here learned by the young librarian. The practical suggestions and information embodied in a single number are frequently worth ten times the year's subscription."—A. R. SPOFFORD, Librarian of Congress.

"The American Library Journal should take its place upon the desk of every librarian and every collector of books, to whom it will furnish more than one useful help."—Journal des Débats (Paris).

"I consider the Journal one of the most valuable aids to librarians ever undertaken. I do not see how a librarian can venture to undertake his responsibilities without it. Every library, whether public or private, that spends $200 annually on its administration, cannot pay out $5 with more advantage to itself than by taking the Journal."—JOHN EATON, Commissioner of Education.

The Literary News.

AN ECLECTIC REVIEW OF CURRENT LITERATURE.

Published monthly, and containing the freshest news concerning books and authors; lists of new publications; reviews and critical comments; characteristic extracts; sketches and anecdotes of authors; prominent topics of the magazines, etc.

The Literary News, since its establishment under the name of The Literary Bulletin in 1868, has passed through many transformations in appearance and method before acquiring the distinctive features which have given it a character of its own, and which have become so familiar to thousands of readers. In substance it has been the same since its inception—"a monthly record of current literature; but while primarily fulfilling its mission in the interests of the book trade, it has since the establishment of The Publishers' Weekly, which now so thoroughly covers that ground, aimed more directly to meet the wants of readers and students.

Its plan is to present each month a full survey of current literature, by means of brief reviews and notices, sketches of authors, lists of books of the month, etc. The reviews and book-notices are confined to the best books of the day, and are quoted only from recognized literary journals. Their selection is made with an aim not merely to guide by a praise of books, but to awaken an interest in subjects worth studying and authors worth knowing, by giving what throws most light both on authors and books in their relation to life and literature. A full priced and annotated list of the books of the month, characteristic pictures from the illustrated books of the month, gossip about authors and books and advance notes of forthcoming publications are given in each issue.

A complete index, by authors, titles or subjects, makes the annual volumes accessible for permanent reference.

"A neat, conveniently arranged and cheap miscellany of book-news, which will be found well worth its cost to the bookbuyer, large or small. One of its best features is the giving of helpful extracts, at considerable length, from prominent books and from the more important reviews of them."—Sunday-School Times.

"It is almost equally impossible for most persons to read all the new books and publications and the criticisms on them to be found in the best journals and reviews. There is therefore special value in the field occupied by the Literary News, a monthly which selects the most reliable and readable notices of the latest publications, and is consequently a very trustworthy and interesting guide to current literature."—N. Y. Evening Mail.

"Continues to bring us the latest and best criticisms on new books, prominent authors and leading magazines. . . . Each number contains a rare literary mélange—a delight to all lovers of books."—Educational Weekly.

The American Catalogue.

The American Catalogue of books in print and for sale July 1, 1876, compiled under the direction of F. LEYPOLDT by L. E. JONES, and its supplements, 1876–84 and 1884–90, compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. Bowker by Miss A. I. Appleton and others, aims to present all the bibliographical features of the books in the American market, arranged in the first part alphabetically by both authors and titles, and in the second part alphabetically by subjects. As it was impracticable to bring the body of the original work down to a later date than July, 1876, without further delaying its appearance, an appendix was added to the first part, containing the publications of most of the leading houses issued subsequently to that date, and an index to this appendix was given in each part. As a further aid, a list of bibliographies was prefixed to the second part to assist the student in prosecuting his researches beyond the province of the Catalogue proper. These two lists serve to bridge over the interval elapsing during the compilation and publication of the work, and thus practically remedy a defect inherent in all such publications.

The Catalogue and its supplementary volumes thus form the only approximately complete guide in existence to the American books of the day, so arranged as to make reference easy from whatever direction the inquiry may come, whether from that of the author, or the title, or the subject. It not only furnishes the desired information about any particular book of which the consulter is in search, but shows what others there are by the same author or on the same subject in which he is interested. To the bookseller, therefore, it is valuable both in filling orders and in stimulating business; to the librarian, in supplying gaps and proportioning his collection; and to all who are practically concerned with books, in furnishing information which nowhere else is obtainable by so convenient a method, if obtainable at all.

The author-and-title volume of the 1876 volume is out of print. A limited number of the subject volume may be had in half-leather binding at $15.

American Catalogue, 1876–84, compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. Bowker by Miss A. I. Appleton. 4to, half leather, $15. (Out of print.)

Appendices contain United States Government publications, January 1, 1881, to June 30, 1884; publications of literary and scientific societies; books published in series.

American Catalogue, 1884–90, compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. Bowker by Miss A. I. Appleton and others. 4to, half leather, $15. (Subject to raise in price.)

Contains besides the regular features of its predecessors a list of State publications and publications of literary and scientific societies. The list of Government publications is brought down to June 30, 1890.

American Catalogue, 1890-1895. Sheets, $12.50; half morocco, $15.00.

The appendices continue the record of the government publications, state and society publications, etc., to June 30, 1895.

"I must express my high sense of the extreme care and great bibliographical skill."—HENRY R. TEDDER, Sec'y U. K. Lib'y Assoc.

"Let me add my hearty acknowledgment of most signal indebtedness, as a librarian, for the American Catalogue."—W. E. FOSTER, Providence Public Library.

"I feel very proud of the catalogue [illegible] already a source of information in regard to books [illegible] my thirty-seven years' experience did not anticipate."—WM. H. YOUNG, Troy, N. Y.

"The Catalogue is a monument of patient, dry, uninviting work. . . . There is scarcely a bookseller in the country who would hesitate a moment to expend twenty-five dollars in advertising his stock; ought he to hesitate a moment about an expenditure that would enable him to sell hundreds of dollars' worth of books in a year? Such an investment would also purchase for him a reputation among his customers for intelligence and trade knowledge that would pay him five times over."—A. D. F. RANDOLPH.

"Within its appointed limits [it] is, without question, the most perfect trade bibliography with which we are acquainted."—London Bookseller.

"It is not possible to speak too strongly of the value of the work on first principles, of the general thoroughness and accuracy with which it has been done, or of its typographical beauty. Few fairer and more sumptuous books have been issued from the American press."—Literary World.

"To booksellers, of course, it is indispensable; but it is almost equally needful to careful bookbuyers. It will take its place at once as a most valuable assistant of the book committee in every library whose purchases extend beyond the merest current literature, or where any attempt is made to fill up particular branches; and it may even be found useful as a supplement and corrective of the classed catalogue, or perhaps as a substitute for one in those unhappy libraries which are too poor to have a guide of their own."—Nation.

"A unique bibliography, compiled on an entirely new plan, in which the finding of titles is made exceedingly easy—the saving of time seeming to Americans of first importance. Special pains have been taken in identifying anonymous and pseudonymous authors. The digest of the immense material shows extraordinary labor. Corresponding to the price of the work is its exquisite get-up; in which respect it is approached among Continental bibliographies only by Lorenz's beautiful Catalogue de la librairie française. Its typographical arrangement, clear-cut type, excellent presswork, hard, white paper—all these make the eye rest with pleasure on its pages. Libraries and leading book-stores can scarcely do without it."—Börsenblatt für den deutschen Buchhandel (Official Journal of the German Book Trade).

Annual American Catalogue.

An annual publication, begun in 1886, containing the full titles, with descriptive notices, of all books recorded in The Publishers' Weekly, with an author, title and subject index, publishers' annual lists of latest publications, and directory of publishers.

The "Annual American Catalogue" supplements "The American Catalogue," in that it carries forward, year by year, the five-yearly record of the latter; so, for instance, the "Annual Catalogue" for 1895 will form the first supplement to the "American Catalogue, 1890–95," and include the second half of 1895, which is not covered by that volume of the "American Catalogue."

One volume, 8°, hf. leather, $3.50.

The volumes from 1886 to 1890 were printed from plates reproduced from the printed matter by a photographic process, and from electrotypes from type, each title being cast separately and then moulded in alphabetical order. These processes have given so little satisfaction that it has been decided to print future volumes from type.

". . . An experiment has been made which is interesting, first of all, on the mechanical side. The scheme of 'The Annual American Catalogue, 1886,' involved an alphabetical arrangement by authors of all the book entries in The Publishers' Weekly during the year in question, with full titles and descriptive notes (sometimes extracts from critical notices). To reset these would have cost more than could be recovered by sales, and the ingenious device was resorted to of deftly pasting the entries together in their new order, in double columns corresponding to a page of the Weekly, and obtaining a plate from these by means of photography. . . . There has been added an index by author, title and subject, thus meeting every want of the bookseller. The trade can hardly be so indifferent to its own advantage as to make this first volume unremunerative."—The Nation, 1887.

The Publishers' Trade List Annual.

This volume is indispensable to any one that has any interest in the purchase or sale of books. It contains:

1. An index to contributors and advertisers.
2. An index to special lines, giving important information as to where to find what is wanted.
3. The Publishers' Trade Lists: These are the latest catalogues of American publishers, arranged alphabetically by the names of the publishers.

Large 8°, price $2.

"A very useful and reliable assistant in our business."—J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO., Philadelphia.

"One of the most time-saving and profitable instrumentalities used by the trade."—AMERICAN NEWS CO., New York.

"The most useful work of reference we have ever had for general use in the trade."—LEE & SHEPARD, Boston.

"Not a day passes that we do not consult it many times."—A. D. F. RANDOLPH & CO., New York.

"We find your 'Annual' of very great value, and feel glad that it is so thoroughly representative."—WILLIAMSON & CO., Toronto.

"The trade and the libraries of the country are deeply indebted to The Publishers' Weekly (New York) for its enterprise in the making of this bulky and unique publication."—Philadelphia Press.

"The most convenient way to consult publishers' lists is in their collected and alphabetized form, with collateral helps for reference, and with supplementary entries to the date of publication, in The Trade List Annual for the current year."—Sunday-School Times.

The American Educational Catalogue.

The Educational Catalogue, established in 1870, is published annually in the Educational Number of The Publishers' Weekly, and subsequently in the "Publishers' Trade List Annual." It includes a price-list of school and text-books in use in the United States, arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject, so that the advantages of both a finding-list for the trade and a class-catalogue for the use of schools are combined. Price, separately, 50 cents.

"The Educational Number of The Publishers' Weekly (1878) deserves more than a mere passing notice. Besides the usual array of book advertisements, reviews, announcements and literary notes, it contains a well-digested catalogue of educational works, arranged under their respective subjects, with the prices and publishers' names attached. An idea of the completeness and magnitude of this catalogue may be formed from the facts that the topics in the subject-index number 170, and that there are no less than 120 houses whose publications are thus classified. The catalogue itself covers twenty-nine double-column large octavo pages. The value of such a list for ready reference can hardly be overestimated. The bookseller can turn to it to find by whom a given book is published, and its price; the teacher or school officer can see just what books are within his reach on any particular branch; and the miscellaneous book-collector has here every facility for making selections for his library on any educational subject. All who are interested in school-books ought to preserve this catalogue as a vade mecum."—Christian Union.

The Annual Literary Index,

INCLUDING PERIODICALS, AMERICAN AND ENGLISH, ESSAYS, BOOK-CHAPTERS, ETC., SPECIAL BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND NECROLOGY OF AUTHORS.

EDITED BY W. I. FLETCHER and R. R. BOWKER,

With the co-operation of members of the American Library Association and of the Library Journal staff.

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX complements the "Annual American Catalogue" of books, published each year, by indexing (1) articles in periodicals published during the year of its issue; (2) essays and book-chapters in composite books; (3) authors of periodical articles and essays; (4) special bibliographies; (5) authors deceased. The two volumes together make a complete record of the literary product of the year.

With the volume for 1896 was begun an index to dates of the principal events of the year. This feature crowns the work as an indispensable reference handbook to the teacher, student, and general reader.

The volume for 1892 forms the first supplement both to the new five-yearly volume (1887–1891) of Poole's Index to Periodical Literature, and to the A. L. A. Index to essays and book-chapters of Mr. Fletcher.

"Of great value to all who would keep advised of the topics and writers in the periodical literature of the day."—Universalist Quarterly.

"Good indexing could no further go."—The Nation.
